Fear Flooding Along Fraser If Heat Lasts

Waters Rise Sharply at Hope; Several Districts Facing Threat

VANCOUVER, May 12 (CP).—The Dominion Water and Power Bureau here warned today that should present soaring temperatures continue beyond the week-end "high water of flood proportions may be anticipated in the Fraser River system."

The weather office in Vancouver reported at the same time little change in the weather situation is expected in the next 48 hours. Temperatures of 80 degrees have been recorded in many Interior points.

In the last three days the Fraser River at Hope, 100 miles east of Vancouver, has risen from 19.98 feet to 24.10 feet. Another rise of four feet has been reported from the Fraser Valley centre of Mission.

FLASH FLOODS

Already, flash floods have cut road and telegraph communications with the Similkameen Valley, 140 miles east of Vancouver.

The Similkameen and Tulameen Rivers have risen more than three feet in two days, and some break-throughs are threatened at several points.

The river is said within inches of dike tops at the headgate of the Cawston Irrigation District, near Keremeos, and seepage is being checked by emergency crews. Still another break is threatened at Twenty Mile Creek, which joins the Similkameen near Hedley.

Fields have been flooded by Sterling Creek, midway between Hedley and Princeton, and the new Hope-Princeton Highway may be threatened.

The Canadian Pacific Railway's Nicola Valley and Kettle Valley lines are also reported threatened by floods.

Rivers in Washington and Idaho also rose toward flood stage today.

The mighty Columbia River was swollen, but most of the flood threats were concentrated along its upstream tributaries in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho.

BATTLE OF DIKES

Bonners Ferry, Idaho, waged its almost annual battle to save dikes.

The Wenatchee River lapped at dike tops at Cashmere, Wash.

Lake Coeur D'Alene in Northern Idaho rose enough to close a section of U.S. Highway No. 95.

Dikes crumbled to threaten farms near Union, Ore.

The army corps of engineers dispatched 160 men and heavy equipment to Bonners Ferry to help cope with the rapidly climbing Kootenai River.

Assize Jury Finds Wied Guilty of Manslaughter

An Assize Court jury yesterday found Jacob E. Wied not guilty of murder, but guilty of manslaughter and recommended mercy.

Thanking the jurymen at the close of the murder trial, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Wendell B. Farris told them: "I would have returned the same verdict you did including the recommendation for mercy. I will give the recommendation my serious consideration."

Wied will not be sentenced until the end of the Spring sitting of the Assize Court.

SECOND TRIAL

The accused was facing his second trial on a charge that he murdered his wife, Evelyn, last July 17 in a room at 1927 Yates Street. He was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged after a trial at the Autumn Assizes, but the conviction was set aside by the Appeal Court in January when a new trial was ordered.

The Chief Justice began his charge by saying George F. Gregory, Wied's lawyer, "has had courage in undertaking the defence when the accused had changed his stand."

He repeated Mr. Gregory's plea that a human life was at stake, and that "we are not here to try a case of perjury."

JURY INSTRUCTED

He told the jury to find Wied not guilty if they believed the death was an accident and to find him guilty of manslaughter if they found all the elements of murder but that Wied was too drunk to form an intent of murder. Otherwise, he said, they should find him guilty of murder.

In his address to the jury, Mr. Gregory reviewed Crown evidence that he said was inconsistent with Wied's guilt and told the jury "he's not charged with stupidity or cowardice. You can't hang a man because he told a lie."

He asked the jury to agree that the death was an accident.

WITHOUT MOTIVE

There was no motive, he said. "People don't go around killing without reason. He didn't kill his wife for her money, because if there was one thing the Wieds didn't have it was money."

"I submit that the Crown's evidence alone—if you want to forget Wied's—is that he was so drunk he didn't know what he was doing," Mr. Gregory said. "At the very worst this is a case of carelessness with a sharp knife."

W. H. M. Haldane, Crown prosecutor, told the jury Wied "presented a figure of some pathos, pitifully telling of how, in a drunken brawl, he was the cause of the death of his wife," then pointed out that Wied came "to you as a confessed perjurer to tell you a story he again presents as the truth."

HAD "BLACKOUT"

He said Wied remembered many events before and after the wounding of his wife, but had a "convenient blackout" about the actual stabbing.

The jury returned its verdict after pondering slightly more than two hours.

C.S.U. Crew Quits Vessel; Pickets Stay

VANCOUVER, May 12 (CP).—The Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) crew of the Ss. Seaboard Star, docked on the north shore of Burrard Inlet, today complied in part with a Supreme Court order directing them to quit the ship and its approaches. Picketing, however, continues.

Counsel for Seaboard Owners, Limited, accompanied by Captain T. Quinn, appeared in court today to make application for committal orders against seamen and pickets allegedly violating Mr. Justice Manson's order.

NO JUDGE AVAILABLE

However, no judge was available to hear the application.

The petition will be filed tomorrow morning unless pickets are withdrawn overnight.

Israel Celebrates Independence Day

Israel celebrated its independence day in Tel-Aviv with a two-day program of festivities which included a President's reception and an Israeli army parade which had to be called off when an excited crowd got out of hand. After waiting for hours for the grand military parade to march by, the crowd in this picture looked somewhat dejected after police announcement that the parade was cancelled.

Polish Charge Rejected

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 12 (CP).—Canada tonight rejected as untrue Poland's charge in the United Nations that refugees in the Dominion are exploited.

Leon Mayrand presented Canada's case before the 59-member social committee of the General Assembly, answering an attack on the Dominion made earlier by Henry Altman of Poland.

Altman said displaced persons brought to Canada and other countries worked under worse conditions than they endured in German camps. He called for the reorganization of I.R.O., which would allow immigrants to return to their native countries and would eliminate what he called exploitation.

CLAIMS DENIED

Mayrand, head of the American and Far Eastern division of the External Affairs Department, noted that Russia and White Russia as well as Poland had made the same charges previously in the United Nations. (Authorities in the Dominion have denied these charges.)

"I gather from those statements that they are attempting to show that refugees and displaced persons who came to Canada are being employed at lower rates than those paid locally-hired help for similar work, that their working conditions are unsatisfactory, and that, in general, they are being discriminated against and exploited by their Canadian employers," Mayrand said.

"Nothing, of course, could be further from the truth . . ." he added.

CONDITIONS REMEDIED

Mayrand said there had been complaints about conditions at a temporary refugee camp at Emerson, Man., but remedial action was taken soon after it came to the Government's attention.

Berlin Difficulty Appears Solved

BERLIN, May 13 (Friday) (CP).—A major difference between the Western Allies and Russians over Berlin's exports appeared today to have been solved.

The Russians yesterday had refused to allow trucks to leave Western Berlin for the Western occupation zones unless they had a permit either from the Russians or the Russian-backed German Economic Commission.

But early today the West Berlin police quoted the officer in charge of the Russian highway check point outside Berlin as saying only an order from the West Berlin Government was required for passage of the trucks through the Russian zone.

Western Berlin is separated from the rest of Western occupied Germany by 100 miles of Soviet-controlled territory.

Whether the Russians actually have dropped their demand for a Russian licence will not be known before daylight today when trucks again try to get through the Russian check point.

ON CHARITY

If Soviet authorities enforce their claim to authority over Western Berlin's exports they could keep 2,000,000 residents of the American, British and French sectors of the city on a basis of "virtual charity," said Brig.-Gen. Frank L. Howley, American commandant here. He declared Western Berlin "must export to the West to live" and added:

"The American and British airlift can meet any emergency now—it can keep some exports moving out—but the airlift isn't intended to go on forever."

Despite the seeming hitch, 250,000 Berliners poured out of their homes and attended two giant rallies celebrating the end of the blockade. Even the old, the young and the crippled turned out. Schools and most business houses closed.

SEARCHES END

Berlin still was a split city with two separate municipal administrations, however, all police controls on freedom of movement inside the city had disappeared overnight. Berliners could travel anywhere in the city without risk of police search.

The Soviet blockade of Western Berlin and the Western Allies' counter blockade of the Russian zone of Germany were lifted on schedule all along the 1,000-mile German cold-war front.

For the British and American airlift crews it was just another day. They kept flying supplies into Berlin at the rate of nearly 500 tons an hour.

Heavy Slide Delays Trains

EDMONTON, May 12 (CP). — A heavy rock slide on the Canadian National Railway main line west of Blue River has interrupted train service to Edmonton, it was reported here today. Regular trains from Vancouver are expected to reach here six hours late tonight. The slide is reported to be 100 feet in length. Work crews have been rushed to the scene.

Communists Inch Closer To Sandbagged Shanghai

SHANGHAI, May 12 (AP).—The Communists inched closer around Shanghai today, being reported only 18 miles distant at one point.

The Reds were reported attacking the outer defences of Hankow less than 13 miles north of that great Central China city, and probing deeper south in the vicinity of Nanchang.

Although the threat to Shanghai appeared no greater than during the past week, Nationalist garrison troops began erecting sandbagged guard posts at public buildings and police stations.

All Central Government departments still in Shanghai were ordered to leave within two weeks.

HOLDING FIRM

The garrison reported its defence holding firm at a village 25 miles southwest of Shanghai. It also said there was bitter fighting (though apparently on a small scale) 20 to 25 miles northwest of Shanghai.

An American flyer who landed at Shanghai said he saw a village burning 20 miles to the northwest.

The Government's Central News Agency said meanwhile that fighting of "unprecedented fury" was "raging" in the Hankow area, 600 miles up the Yangtze. The numbers involved, however, indicated it was on a comparatively small scale.

Central News said the Reds lost 400 men and the Nationalists 58 in the battle.

REDS DRIVEN BACK

It said the Reds were driven back from Santaochao, just north of Hankow, to a point 13 miles north.

Central News said Hankow could hear artillery fire and that the city's streets were deserted.

Given Permits For Exchanges

TOKIO, May 12 (AP).—Japan's security exchanges will reopen Saturday, Gen. MacArthur announced today. They have been closed since the end of the war. The Japanese Government has been authorized to open exchanges in Tokio, Osaka and Nagoya, the Allied commander's announcement said.

Canada Not Supplanted In British Trade Pacts

HALIFAX, May 12 (CP).—Britain has not subordinated the interests of Canada to those of other countries in any of her bilateral trade agreements, Harold Wilson, President of the British Board of Trade, said tonight.

In a Halifax speech, the minister said there are misunderstandings in Canada about British trade policy.

One of these is that Canadian manufacturers and producers are being driven from their traditional market in Britain.

1948 BIGGEST YEAR

Mr. Wilson went on to quote figures to show that this is not the case. Canada last year was "by far" Britain's biggest source of supply. Canadian timber accounted for 34 per cent of all lumber imported by Britain last year, compared to 18 per cent before the war. Wheat and bacon imports from Canada were also proportionately higher.

He added:

"As a nation we have been in the last few months in over-all balance with the rest of the world and in considerable surplus with the rest of the sterling area, but in these days of inconvertible currencies that surplus cannot be transmitted into either United States or Canadian dollars.

"The foundations on which prewar trade, both bilateral and multilateral, rested have been knocked away and it is taking all our energies and all our ingenuity to rebuild them . . .

DOLLARS DWINDLING

"We are faced with the knowledge that the U.S. offshore (Marshall Aid) dollars will progressively decline between now and 1952.

"So unless we can manage to push up our earnings of U.S. and Canadian dollars faster than the offshore dollars decline, we shall be able to buy less from Canada in future rather than more.

" . . . Not only the increase of our general level of imports from Canada, but even the maintenance of the present rate will be dependent on a great expansion of our exports to Canada . . .

"I can say tonight, and I weigh my words most carefully, in none of our bilateral agreements have we subordinated the interests of Canada to those of other countries. Nor shall we do so."

No Escape for Shanghai Refugees

—Central Press Canadian.

Although the only escape route left open from Shanghai is by the sea, thousands of refugees within the city still seek somewhere to go so that they will be out of the line of fire if, and when, the shooting starts. Coolies are doing a big trade hauling refugees and their baggage hither and yon. Actually there is nowhere to go. Communist armies are approaching the city from three sides. The fourth side is the sea and there are no ships.

Attlee Given Guard As Safety Measure

BULLETINS

See Firing

SHANGHAI, May 13 (Friday) (AP). — Airline pilots today reported they saw small arms fire a scant ten miles from Shanghai's main airport.

Distant explosions could be heard at the airport, Langwha. That is where Chinese and international air lines take off with refugees from this menaced city.

Labor Losing

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—Labor lost control of four key cities in Northern England and the Midlands to the Conservatives and Independents in Thursday's local government "little General Election."

With only 30 of 420 borough councils in Engand and Wales yet to be heard from, an unofficial tabulation early today showed that the Conservatives took most of the honors.

P.C.'s Form New Group In Esquimalt

Showdown in the Esquimalt political muddle came to a head last night with announcement by R. H. Pooley, former Conservative attorney-general, that a new Esquimalt District Progressive Conservative Coalition Association had been formed.

This association will appoint delegates to a Coalition nominating convention to be held at Colwood Hall next Tuesday at 8 p.m. to choose a Coalition candidate.

All delegates of the new Progressive Conservative Coalition Association must have credentials signed by either Mr. Pooley or Charles Beadnell, and the candidate chosen will be the official Coalition nominee, with the support of both Liberal and Progressive Conservative leaders—Premier Byron Johnson and Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb.

PROPOSING THOMAS

Mr. Pooley announced he would propose the name of Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt, a Liberal, while the sitting member in the last House, Charles T. Beard, Liberal, will be proposed by F. C. Blake, Progressive Conservative.

A former Conservative member for the riding, E. V. Finland, was nominated by a Progressive Conservative convention some days ago, as a Progressive Conservative candidate supporting Coalition.

A notice to that effect was sent to the central Progressive Conservative committee in Vancouver, which put the matter up to the provincial leader, Mr. Anscomb.

Mr. Anscomb then delegated Mr. Pooley to take charge of affairs. An Esquimalt Progressive Conservative (Coalition) Association was formed yesterday and a meeting was held with Liberals last night at which it was agreed to hold the official convention next Tuesday.

The move is interpreted here as reading out of the Progressive Conservative Party the Finland faction.

Move Made Following Passage Of Ireland Bill by Commons

LONDON, May 12 (CP).—Police guarded Prime Minister Attlee's residence at 10 Downing Street tonight, armed "as an extra safety precaution," 24 hours after Parliament passed the Ireland Bill.

While Scotland Yard denied that the precaution was taken in view of threats against Attlee, the move recalled the 1939 campaign of violence by the outlawed Irish Republican Army in protest against partition of Ireland.

The bill, which brought protests from Government officials of the new Irish Republic, stipulates that Northern Ireland shall remain part of the United Kingdom unless the Northern Ireland Parliament decides otherwise. It was given second reading in the Commons Wednesday night.

A motion for rejection of the bill was previously defeated 317 to 12. All parties in the republic have voiced objections to partition.

Northern Ireland reaffirmed its status early this year when Sir Basil Brooke's pro-partition Government was re-elected in a general election.

U.K. Commons Gives Pact Overwhelming Approval

LONDON, May 12 (CP).—The House of Commons tonight gave overwhelming approval to the North Atlantic Security Treaty after Foreign Secretary Bevin said the pact makes the whole Western world stronger. The vote was 333 to 6.

The Foreign Secretary, who took the lead with Winston Churchill in bringing Britain into the 12-country alliance against aggression, said that if Russia had gone unchecked the situation would have led inevitably to another world war. The pact might encourage Russia to co-operate on a sensible and sound basis.

Bevin said the West had seen country after country made subservient to Russia, with the Czecho-Slovak coup of 1948 "perhaps the most ruthless act which shook the world's conscience." It would influence opinion for years to come.

PRAISES BEVIN

Bevin and Churchill, the Conservative leader, both joined during the debate in urging approval of the treaty. Churchill praised Bevin for his "wise and prudent leadership."

But both leaders sounded a note of caution over the lifting of the Berlin blockade.

Churchill warned "mere manoeuvres" by Russia must be watched with utmost vigilance. He told the Commons:

"There can be no assurance of permanent peace in Europe while Asia is on the Elbe or while so many ancient cities in Eastern Europe are held in the grip of 13 men who form the oligarchy of the Kremlin."

SECOND THOUGHTS

Bevin, speaking for the Government, said he is "convinced" that the closer link between the Atlantic powers "has led Russia to second thoughts about tactics that have been followed regarding Germany, and particularly about Berlin."

There was a possibility the new situation set up by the treaty, signed in Washington last month, might lead to "a final settlement."

In addition to Britain, the signers of the pact are Canada, Belgium, the United States, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark, Portugal and Iceland. Canada was the first of the 12 members to ratify the treaty. Belgium's Senate approved it today by a vote of 127 to 13, completing ratification by that country.

Only the two Communist members, Philip Piratin and Willie Gallacher and a handful of left-wing Labor members opposed the treaty.

Held at Nelson

PETER SWETLISHKOFF

Under arrest in Nelson, B.C., Peter Swetlishkoff is charged with arson following recent fire outbreaks in radical Doukhobor settlements. The 33-year-old member of the Sons of Freedom denied that he had had anything to do with the burning of a new $85,000 school. He is charged with burning a jam factory at Brilliant, near Nelson, in 1943. He was remanded yesterday until next Thursday.

Arrest Suspect In B.C. Theft

TORONTO, May 12 (CP). — Charles Alexander Taylor, 41-year-old filling station attendant at Burlington, near Hamilton, is being held without bail on a charge of stealing $11,142 in cash from the Canada Fishing Company, Butedale, B.C., in 1947.

Taylor, also known as John Barry Saunders, was arrested at the service station today by police investigating several Toronto fraud cases. It was then discovered his description tallied with that of the man wanted in British Columbia.

Police said Taylor was a department manager in the British Columbia company in September, 1947 when the money was taken from a company safe.

City Told Arena Ceiling Accident Could Bring Penalty for Employer

Should an accident occur in the Memorial Arena as a result of the "hazardous condition" existing because of loose fibrerock ceiling sheets, the employer could be penalized, the city was informed yesterday in a letter from A. Francis, of Vancouver, chief inspector of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Alderman Edward Williams, acting chairman of the arena committee, who received the letter, said a copy would be sent immediately to C. T. Hamilton, arena consulting engineer, in Vancouver.

DANGER POINTED OUT

Mr. Francis' letter disclosed W.C.B. Inspector J. Newton had called attention to the "dangerous condition" which existed through the loose ceiling sheets earlier this year, and in a letter to the city issued instructions to have the hazard removed "to eliminate the possibility of injuries to workmen."

"This letter was acknowledged March 22, stating that the consulting engineer had been in touch with our office," declared Mr. Francis. "Mr. Hamilton had been in touch with our office, but had not notified us of any corrective action. We now learn from our inspector that this hazardous condition still exists."

ASKS QUICK ACTION

The chief inspector called for quick action.

"Should an accident occur as a result of this hazarous condition the act provides for penalties which may be imposed upon the employer," advised Mr. Francis.

City Solicitor A. J. Patton stated since the city did not directly employ workmen on the job at the arena it could not be classed as an "employer."

"The city is the owner, not the employer," he said.

Before an informal meeting of council last Tuesday, Alderman Williams argued loose ceiling sheets should be torn down to comply with W.C.B. instructions, because Mr. Hamilton was unable to give him a satisfactory answer why action had not been taken.

THREATENS TO RESIGN

Ald. Williams said at the meeting that he would resign from the arena committee if council decided to open the arena to the public before reaching a decision on the arena ceiling. Alderman Williams is acting chairman of the committee.

Alderman Williams declared yesterday reports were expected at the first of next week from Mr. Hamilton and an independent engineer regarding the steps to be taken to repair the arena ceiling and where blame lay for the present condition of the ceiling.

No Pre-Election Action On Liquor Vote--Premier

Premier Byron Johnson said last night "that nothing can, or will be done, on a liquor plebiscite until after the June 15 provincial elections."

This was his answer to a direct question: "What is the Coalition Government intending to do about the much-talked liquor plebiscite for British Columbia."

Premier Johnson was speaking in support of Andrew Whisker, Coalition candidate for Cowichan-Newcastle, in the Agricultural Hall at Duncan before an audience of 200 people.

OPPONENTS STRONG

He said anti-liquor supporters far exceeded those in favor of liquor-by-the-glass in the province in making representations to the Cabinet during the last session here.

Premier Johnson's statement fell amidst rounds of applause from the audience.

Mr. Whisker briefly outlined his youth and early years as a logger and coal miner in the Newcastle district. He was later executive head of the safety division of the Department of Labor here.

Premier Johnson, in opening his address, said he would not mention "his friend, Harold Winch, or the C.C.F.," as he felt the Coalition could stand on its own record.

WORK FOR PROVINCE

He explained the principles of coalition as "two great parties joined together, working for the good of the province as a whole."

"The Coalition has brought a private enterprise Government into the province which is without a doubt one of the finest Governments in the Dominion," he said.

A questioner from the floor wanted to know about the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Premier Johnson said "the railway will be built by the Coalition."

Nomination Race In B.C. Nears End

VANCOUVER, May 12 (CP).—The nomination race for the June 15 Provincial election is nearing an end.

The Provincial C.C.F. Party has now nominated all of its 48 candidates, the Coalition has 39 candidates in the field, Social Credit has named nine and the Labor-Progressives two.

The nine remaining Coalition candidates will be selected within the next few days. The Social Credit Party expects to have 15 or more candidates in the field when nominations are completed.

Low Attacks Money System

CALGARY, May 12 (CP).—Solon Low, national leader of the Social Credit Party, said tonight the fundamental issue in the June 27 Federal election was a choice between the present financial system, or "a change to a system that means adequate purchasing power in the hands of the people."

In a 15-minute free-time political broadcast over the national network of the C.B.C., Mr. Low claimed retention of the present financial system will mean "unemployment or war, or both."

"The only way to avoid unemployment, or war, or both, is through application of the principles of Social Credit," Mr. Low said. "Social credit is the only program before the Canadian people which can abolish the causes of these two scourges of humanity."

Would Adjust Some Terms Of Federation

GRAND FALLS, Nfld., May 12 (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said tonight that a government under his leadership will be prepared to adjust the terms under which this island entered Confederation.

A Progressive Conservative Government, he said, would see to it that there are frequent and continuing discussions between the Federal and Provincial Governments.

WOULD MAKE CHANGES

If Newfoundland's Government asked for a change in the Confederation terms, which became effective March 31, a Progressive Conservative Government would be prepared to make the changes.

Mr. Drew, on a coast-to-coast Federal election campaign tour, spoke to a largely labor audience in this West Coast town, one of the island's largest newsprint producing centres. He raised the Confederation issue after Harry Mews, party leader in Newfoundland, said the terms of Confederation were not satisfactory.

FOR OWN DEVELOPMENTS

The island's Commission Government had built up a surplus of $40,000,000. That money, said Mr. Mews, should be used on the capital expenditures and not on current expenditures. Mr. Drew said he agreed with Mr. Mews that the new province should have control over its own affairs, and that any surplus it had on entering Confederation should be used for capital developments.

Bigger Market for Fish Foreseen by St. Laurent

YARMOUTH, N.S., May 12 (CP).—There are strong possibilities of being able to create a much more important home market for Canadian fish, Prime Minister St. Laurent said tonight.

Mr. St. Laurent said the volume of the Maritime fish sales had gone up greatly. But the potential home market was much greater still.

Canada was setting up machinery to increase the possibilities of delivering fish in good condition to the big centres of population. All in all, there were "strong possibilities" of a greater home market.

"ORDINARY CANADIAN"

Mr. St. Laurent said he appreciated "the opportunity of seeing as many Canadians as possible to show that the Liberals chose as their leader last year an ordinary Canadian like themselves" for all Canadians shared in some degree the type of responsibility which fell upon the Government.

He described the maintenance of peace as the first concern facing Canada today. From there he traced the frustrations and futilities in the United Nations which led to the Atlantic Pact. That treaty should prevent another war for generations, he said.

After peace came the need for jobs and market in recent years. Not without difficulty, it had been possible to maintain both at a high level. Again, unemployment insurance was not a substitute for employment but $5,000,000,000 had been built up in that insurance fund as a great bulwark if unemployment came.

MORRISON CHOICE

BURNABY, B.C., May 12 (CP).—George A. Morrison tonight was named Coalition candidate for Burnaby constituency, represented by E. E. Winch of the C.C.F. in the last B.C. Legislature. Mr. Winch, veteran C.C.F. member, will be seeking re-election.

City Candidates

WILLIAM CLARK

MRS. D. LOUGHEED

MRS. E. M. BELL

Three candidates who will run under Union of Electors' banner in Victoria constituency for June 15 Provincial election are shown above. Announcement of new group's formation created stir in political circles this week. Union of Electors "is an organization of the people" and "not a political party," says Mr. Clark. Major A. H. Jukes is running under same banner in Saanich and Claude Wright in Oak Bay. It is expected that a candidate will be named in Esquimalt.

Woman Officer Of W.I.U. Faces Arrest

VANCOUVER, May 12 (CP).—A woman officer of the rebel Woodworkers' Industrial Union of Canada and former officer of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.), was ordered arrested today by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson.

Object of a search by sheriff's deputies is Mrs. Gladys Hilland, former financial secretary of I.W.A. Local 1-217, Vancouver.

Her case is the second to go to the courts in a dispute over union funds between the I.W.A. local and the rebel union.

FAILED TO APPEAR

The woman failed to appear today before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson to hand over $12,000 of union funds which she is charged with having "under her control."

Her failure to appear today constitutes "a flagrant, brazen defiance of the courts," Mr. Justice Manson said.

M.L.A. Backs Victoria's Bid

City Council will receive the support of Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Victoria M.L.A., in its drive to get a 50-50 share of the Provincial Government sales tax.

In a letter received yesterday by Mayor George, the Victoria member stated she would be "glad" to add her support.

Mayor George wrote last week to Premier Byron Johnson asking that the 3 per cent sales tax be shared equally between the Province and the municipalities to replace the present basis of distribution where two-thirds goes to the Province and one-third to municipalities.

Copies of the letter were sent to Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald, Education Minister W. T. Straith and Victoria M.L.A.'s John Hart and Mrs. Hodges.

Council last Tuesday endorsed the mayor's action.

Police Watch As Workers Pass Pickets

ORILLIA, Ont., May 12 (CP).—About 40 non-union employees today crossed picket lines without incident while 22 Provincial police watched at the strikebound Keywood-Wakefield baby carriage factory here.

The provincials were called to the strike scene yesterday after picket line disturbances in which five foremen were molested. Five pickets were charged with obstructing police.

The strike, now in its 11th day, was called by the Orillia General Workers' Union (C.C.L.) after the dismissal of 18 employees, an action it called "arbitrary."

Batory Stowaway Definitely Eisler

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP).—Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller said today a stowaway aboard a Polish ship at sea has been "positively" identified as Gearhart Eisler, missing alien Communist.

The 53-year-old Eisler, facing two possible jail sentences, disappeared last week from his home in New York. He was free on $23,000 bail.

The liner Batory later radioed that a German stowaway aboard identified himself as Eisler.

Fraser River Dikes Rebuilt For 142 Miles

Up to April 15 the Fraser Valley Diking Commission had completed reconstruction of 142 miles of dikes along the lower Fraser River, Premier Byron Johnson announced yesterday.

This, he pointed out, means a mile and a half a day has been built since work was started last August.

The first phase of the work is now completed, the Premier said, and the board has been studying numerous locations where improvements can be made to give added protection. As a result of these studies a supplementary program has been forwarded to Ottawa and has been approved in principle by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

OUTLINES PROGRAM

Premier Johnson said the program included: Protection of the Lougheed Highway and the area surrounding Harrison Mills, additional protection for the north shore of Nicomen Slough near Daroche, by building a dam across the slough or construction of a supplementary dike on the north shore; re-arrangement and strengthening of dikes at West Langley; extension of dikes at Silverdale Creek; minor repairs on Annacis Island, Deas Island and the south side of Deas Island Slough; improvement at Hope Slough near Chilliwack; improvement to the diking systems in the Maple Ridge district along the South Alouette; further flood protection at Harrison Hot Springs and additional dredging in the vicinity of the International Airport at Sea Island.

Allies Pass Constitution For West German State

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 12 (AP).—The three Western military governors announced tonight they had approved with reservations the constitution for a Federal Republic of Western Germany.

The reservations involved these subjects: Powers vested in a federal government, police powers of the federal government, the proposed reorganization of state boundaries, administrative powers of the federal government and inclusion of Berlin in the new German State.

TREATY IN FORCE

At the same time British, American and French officials announced they had put into force the "occupation" statute—or interim peace treaty—for the 45,000,000 Germans in the Western zones.

The door is left open to the Soviet zone to join the government if free elections are held in Eastern Germany.

Approval of the constitution gave the Western allies an ace card at the Big Four meeting of Foreign Ministers.

POINTS MADE CLEAR

The letter of approval from the military governors made these points in elaborating on the reservations:

1. The powers exercised by both the federal government and the state governments would be subjected to provisions of the occupation statute.

2. Police powers of the new federal government should be limited to such jobs as customs and border patrol.

3. At present "while Berlin may not be accorded a voting membership in the Bundestag (Lower [illegible] nor be governed by the Federation, she may, nevertheless, designate a small number of representatives to attend meetings of these legislative bodies."

BENNETT NOMINATED

KELOWNA, B.C., May 12 (CP).—W. A. C. Bennett, former M.L.A., will contest South Okanagan constituency for the Coalition Government in the forthcoming provincial election. The well-known Okanagan businessman was given the nomination by a 3-1 majority over W. G. Gillard of Summerland.

Island Rangers Win Acclaim As Service Club of Outdoors

"A service club of the outdoors . . . an organization well prepared to serve in emergencies involving the great outdoors."

Alex Crouch, in an address to the Kiwanis Club yesterday at the Empress Hotel, described the South Vancouver Island Rangers in this manner.

Born in the emergency of war as the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers, the organization was reorganized at the end of hostilities, and with the move came the new name. The spirit remains the same.

Fortunately, Mr. Crouch said, the new organization was able to purchase a 25-acre property at Luxton, where the group as militia members had its wartime training. The property has been improved to a considerable extent, and now includes a fine archery set-up, a rifle range, and other training facilities.

SERVICE THEIR AIM

Aim of the Rangers, Mr. Crouch continued, were to render an organized service for Vancouver Island in searches for lost persons or aircraft, assist where possible in firefighting efforts, and provide a training ground for youths who are interested in the outdoors.

The Junior Rangers, with a limited membership, provide outdoor instruction and training for youths between the ages of 12 and 18. Senior members of the organization serve as instructors.

Percy E. George paid tribute to the Rangers' organization.

Approximately 30 members will participate in the ceremony placing flowers on more than 25 graves.

APPOINT SURVEYOR

J. T. Angus, 2646 Musgrave Street, has been appointed surveyor of customs and excise with the Customs Department here, it was announced yesterday by G. Yardley, collector of customs. Official word of the appointment was received from Ottawa.

Formerly a member of the British Columbia Society of Engineers, a profession which he followed until the outbreak of the Great War, Mr. Angus served throughout that conflict first with the 88th Battalion and later with the 29th Battalion.

Severely wounded at Vimy in 1917, he was invalided home and spent the next two years in hospital. He returned to his engineering profession for a short while, and in May of 1925 joined the customs and excise service here, serving in practically all the branches of the department. For the past seven years he has been the Customs Department's excise accountant.

WOULD LIMIT STATIONS

The Victoria branch of the Garage and Motor Trades Association of British Columbia yesterday requested city authorities not to issue any more licences for 24-hour gasoline stations.

"The operators consider there are enough stations open to take care of the needs of the tourists and the night motoring public," H. F. Davis, association manager, declared in a letter to the city.

It was learned there are 11 service stations at present operating on a 24-hour basis in Victoria.

DRUGS FIGHT LEPROSY

There are two or three derivatives of the sulfa drug that are being used with excellent results in a good many of the leper stations throughout the world, Dr. J. B. Rowell said yesterday.

He addressed members of "The Mission to Lepers" at the Y.M.C.A.

"These drugs, chief of which is sulphedrone, have been found much more effective in the treatment of leprosy than the old remedy, chaulmoogra," he said.

Seventy-five per cent of the people treated with this new drug have been sent home symptom-free, he added.

Lumber Output Shows Decline During March

Total of all types of lumber scaled in British Columbia during March of this year was 231,789,156 board feet, as compared with a total of 273,369,362 board feet for the same month the previous year, it is reported by the Forest Service, Department of Lands and Forests.

Total to date for 1949 is 544,992,192 board feet, a decrease of more than 200,000,000 board feet from last year's total for the same period.

Board feet totals by districts for all types of timber scaled during March are as follows:

Vancouver, 154,876,401; Prince Rupert (C), 2,595,141; Prince Rupert (I), 10,195,277; Port George, 35,304,158; Kamloops, 14,631,837; Nelson, 13,596,342.

Work of Students Shown At Annual Art Display

Third annual art display of the work of students in Greater Victoria school district opened yesterday in the Douglas room of the Hudson's Bay Co. store.

Featuring representative work of pupils in Grade VII to XII, the show will continue through today and Saturday.

Proceeds will go to the Junior Red Cross, sponsors of the exhibition.

All elementary and high schools in the area have been invited to send samples of the work done by their pupils in the grades specified.

VARIETY OF EXHIBITS

Included in the exhibition are examples of oil paintings, water colors, fashion sketches, hand-blocked textiles, leatherwork, woodcraft and applied art work in fabric.

Work in other mediums such as soap carvings and papier mache masks are also on display. Leatherwork samples feature many hand-tooled purses and attache cases.

Most popular subject with the young artists is apparently horses, judging by the number of pictures of this animal in the exhibition. But dogs are also much in favor as subject matter.

BALLET INFLUENCE

Another influence noted by teachers is the "Red Shoes" ballet, which recently was shown in Victoria in a moving picture version. At least 20 of the pictures on display depict this motif in one form or another.

A number of "semi-abstracts" are also in evidence.

Pension Hike Advocated

An increase in pensions for former members of the Royal North West Mounted Police was advocated last night by an ex-superintendent J. O. Fripps, vice-president of the Royal North West Mounted Police Veterans' Association.

He addressed members of the association at a meeting held in the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Auditorium.

"The pensions were based on approximately one fiftieth of the rate of pay for some of the earlier members of the force, and in the early days they received only 50 cents a day," he said.

Motor Traffic On B.C. Roads Still Soaring

First quarterly report for this year of the Provincial Motor Vehicle Branch shows the number of vehicles operating in British Columbia is continuing to soar.

Up to the end of March there were 172,849 vehicles registered as against 156,416 for the same period in 1948. Included were 44,747 vehicles classified as commercial as against 39,746 for the same period last year.

Permits to non-residents touring the province showed a drop from 244 last year to 195 this year.

Number of persons holding drivers' licences increased by 18,228 for the first quarter of this year as compared with last year. They numbered 218,519.

Heroism of Young People Saves Two From Waters

Langford Lake on Tuesday afternoon and Campbell River Wednesday morning were the scenes of two separate heroic actions by young people who were responsible for saving the lives of two children.

Late Wednesday morning two-year-old Kenneth Bowen fell into water about five feet deep in Campbell River and was pulled to safety by his seven-year-old playmate, Miss Tasma Lee Hinch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Hinch, residents of Campbell River for the past three years.

Little Miss Hinch had learned how to swim last year. With no regard for her personal safety she plunged into the river and pulled the young boy from the water. Other playmates assisted when the two reached the shore line. The incident occurred about 11 a.m.

Late Tuesday afternoon six-year-old Jim Humphrey, of Langford, was paddling about the lake on a hastily-made raft consisting of two short logs and several boards placed across them. One of the boards slipped from the logs, resulting in the boy being thrown into the water. He was approximately six yards off shore, in water estimated to be more than 16 feet deep.

Nearby on the beach were George Reader, 16, of Colwood Camp, and William Corlett, 13, of Florence Lake Road. Hearing the young boy's call for help they both swam to his assistance, towed him to shore, where young Reader applied artificial respiration for a short time. In an interview yesterday Reader said he had never had actual instruction in life-saving or artificial respiration, but that he "had seen other people practising it." His memory was good, and through his efforts young Jim Humphrey was saved.

End of Berlin Blockade Is Curtain Raiser

THE lifting of the Soviet blockade of Berlin after 327 days of fruitless obstruction, failing of its purpose and in its undisguised intention to harm, is only a curtain-raiser to the May 23 meeting of the four Foreign Ministers. Almost a year ago this meeting was in session, but the Soviet envoy walked out. The blockade which followed was mainly responsible for the degree of unanimity which Western nations have found since, and wholly so for the rearmament of much of the civilized world. Nor can it be ignored that this obvious preparedness is, and will continue for some time to be, a necessary guarantee of the world's peace.

It will remain for Russia at the forthcoming meeting of the four nations concerned to show cause as to why the meeting of Foreign Ministers was interrupted in the first place, why the futile blockade followed, and why it is now being lifted grudgingly after it has so clearly failed. It may be that Russia has some new formula which had not been thought of then. On the other hand, if events cast their shadows ahead, the meeting of Foreign Ministers will have the same East and the same West to reckon upon. It is asking too much of human faith to believe that the lifting of the blockade is in any sense a gesture of human good will.

Meanwhile nearly a year has elapsed in which Germany could have been revived to an extent that would have made her partly self-supporting, without enabling her to become a menace once more to the peace of the world. Millions of tons of fuel and food have been flown in the hard way. What Russia has gained in that interval it is difficult to imagine. The penalty for an everlasting "no" is the lack of progress upon any side. Perhaps the Kremlin sees that now. The rest of the world has known it for a considerable time.

Israel Confirmed by U.N. Membership

MEMBERSHIP in the United Nations has been increased to 59 by the inclusion of Israel, less than a year after Jewish Palestine declared itself to be a state. Undoubtedly it was a great moment for the infant nation, as her Foreign Minister declared at Flushing Meadows, when the latter was called upon to seat himself as the representative of his country. The reaction was divided.

Not surprisingly the Arab delegates were displeased, and showed their feelings by walking out of the chamber. Some other nations apparently were in two minds about Israel's admission, for nine vote abstentions were recorded. Silence is sometimes construed as consent, however, and in this case it was failure to cast these votes that permitted Israel to gain the two-thirds majority necessary for admission to the world organization. It is perhaps a pity that in so important a group as the United Nations there should be shilly-shallying when it comes to the election of new members. All nations should have the courage of their convictions and cast their ballots.

The alphabetical system of seating at the General Assembly puts the Israel delegate between two Arab representatives, those of Iraq and Lebanon, rather an ironic propinquity under the circumstances. At other gatherings juxtaposition is not without its effect in creating harmonious relations, although unfortunately there has been no evidence to indicate that such is the case in the United Nations. Perhaps it should be noted, however, that Israel's Foreign Minister told the Assembly his country entered on membership with a "spirit of humility anxious for guidance and enlightenment." At least these are fair words.

Saanich Making Progress With Irrigation Plan

ASSURANCES by Premier Johnson that the Provincial Government will undertake engineering surveys to determine technical factors in the suggested irrigation projects for Saanich should cause satisfaction among landowners long concerned over the increasing aridity of the district. Even more encouraging to them is the Premier's promise that the Province will "go farther" if these surveys prove irrigation to be feasible.

A condition of the assistance tentatively offered by the Government is that Saanich farmers should form an irrigation district similar to those in other parts of British Columbia where a substantial share of the cost of bringing water to arable land has been borne by the Province. This the landowners more or less agreed to do some time ago as an initial step towards enlisting support for their proposal that the cost of irrigation should be divided among the Dominion and Provincial Governments and the farmers benefiting. It looks, therefore, as if there would be no major administrative problems.

Where three parties are involved in negotiations there are liable to be delays in reaching an agreement; but it is to be hoped that they will not be protracted in this instance. For all its fertility, the Saanich Peninsula is said to be in serious danger of deteriorating into a dustbowl if more water is not brought soon to its drying-out farm lands. It is the belief of agricultural scientists that irrigation would do more than save the soil already under cultivation; it would enable additional areas to be farmed as well. This makes the plan doubly attractive and should provide a strong talking point when the time comes to approach the Dominion Government for assistance.

Letters and Excerpts

Letters to the editor on any topic of genuine public interest are welcome if they are brief, accurate and fair. No letter will be inserted, in whole or in part, except over the proper signature and address of the writer. Unsolicited correspondence cannot be returned.

KEEPING DOGS

Sir,—This would seem a particularly appropriate time to appeal to dog-owners who keep them constantly tied up. I know instances where the dog is tied to his kennel 24 hours, each and every day; often left alone or ignored by their owners, except to provide food and water. Many young dogs spend their time yipping and barking in a most distressing manner for hours at a time. The older ones lie in a dejected attitude watching with wistful and reproachful eyes other dogs with the family going by on the road. The result of keeping a dog tied up constantly either makes him savage or breaks his spirit. If he cannot be given some freedom and companionship, why keep a dog at all?

In this age of rush and so many outside interests the family pet is often neglected from mere thoughtlessness. If you have not time to give to your pets, it is kinder to get rid of them.

(MRS.) P. L. SHERMAN.

NESTING DUCKS

Sir,—My wife and I have been very much perturbed at the precarious conditions now facing the young ducklings at Beacon Hill Park.

The ducks must perforce make their nests in holes in trees, under bushes or in nearby rocks, adjoining the ponds, inasmuch as the comparative safety of the islands is barred to them, owing to the swans nesting there—a pair to an island—who do not tolerate the presence of other birds.

Whilst nesting the ducks are, therefore, submitted to the greatest danger from dogs and cats, which cannot be prevented from entering from adjacent public roads, or even seen to do so after dark.

We believe that the greater number of ducks perish by this means before hatching out their eggs. This fate has almost certainly overtaken a duck that we ourselves placed in the park last Summer for sanctuary.

It appears that some five or six ducks to date have, however, survived and raised a brood of from five to nine ducklings each. But the number in each brood is becoming noticeably smaller.

These ducklings are, as we have witnessed, subjected to the most vicious attacks from the swans, in the water or if they seek refuge on the islands. They are also attacked by the drakes, which are now in excess numerically.

The mother ducks are distracted and prevented from caring for and protecting their broods by the savage mauling and attentions from sometimes six or seven drakes in a gang.

The defenceless ducklings, some now with the mother thus permanently driven from them, must under such conditions have little chance of survival; and we, the residents of Victoria, in that we have accepted and half-tamed them so that they have become one of the featured attractions of the park, are under a moral obligation to undertake whatever measures we can to assist them in their effort of self-preservation.

It would seem that we could provide, at little expense, a completely wired enclosure, wherein duck and ducklings could be shepherded to safety and kept there until they were older and stronger, with a fairer chance of survival when they joined the common flock.

I have discussed this suggestion with the British Columbia Provincial Game Department, who endorse it as "tending to the preservation of wild life," and have obtained similar endorsement by the officials of the Victoria S.P.C.A.

Birds of Passage

I heard the hum of quick pulsation
High in a blue, enchanted sky.
I saw wild geese in close formation
(Sounding like foxhounds in full cry).

How strong they were, majestic, splendid,
With beating wings that seemed on fire!
Where would the long, long quest be ended?
When would those noble pinions tire?

I heard the hum of quick pulsation
High in a disenchanted sky.
I saw their flight in close formation—
The flight of men with wings to fly.

And birds they were, mere boys, and splendid,
And in their hearts great fires burned.
For some of them the quest is ended . . .
May we deserve what they have earned.

—ARMEL O'CONNOR.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IT was when I was crossing the Atlantic on my way to Canada that I was first introduced to Bull Durham. I watched fascinated as a cabin mate, on his way back to Alberta, took his little cloth bag, poured what looked to me like brown dust on to a cigarette paper, pulled the bag shut with his teeth, and then started to roll his own.

That was something new in my experience. I had a faint recollection of hearing that Western cowboys could with one slick motion of one hand pour this New World mixture and make a cigarette while galloping in pursuit of wild Indians, but this was the first time I had actually seen a home-made "smoke" being fashioned. I have since tried my own hand at the art on various occasions—although not with brown dust—but now as then my preference is for a tailor-made cigarette.

I suppose I might have made inquiries, but it happens that I've waited 26 years to learn how Bull Durham came into being, and I only stumbled on the information by casually reading about "The Story of Tobacco in America," in the New York Times book review section.

ROLLING THEIR OWN

Seemingly it was the surrender of Joseph E. Johnston to General Sherman—the gentleman who voiced that apt description of war—six miles from Durham Station, North Carolina, that set in motion the events that made the cigarette really popular in America. A warehouse belonging to one John Ruffin Green quickly fell victim to the soldiers of both armies, who helped themselves without stint—and without paying—to the large store of tobacco it contained.

That gave Green an idea and he proceeded to capitalize on the popularity of his product among soldiers by adopting a trade-mark inspired by the bull's head on jars of Coleman's mustard, manufactured in Durham, England. Bull Durham soon became an institution and American men began "rolling their own."

Before that, I gather, cigarettes were not very popular across the line. Seeing that young America was full of he-men carving out a great nation that may have been because the cigarette was originally a feminine device—dainty and diminutive by comparison with the cigar. Daring Parisian ladies of 1842 and their New York imitators 12 years later had the monopoly of "fags" until Bull Durham came along.

Nowadays of course the cigarette has almost become a feminine monopoly once more—and the word "daring" is superfluous.

THE LAST CUSPIDOR

Tobacco in America in the days before the Civil War was chewed, not smoked. One visitor from England in 1857 was so intrigued by this widespread habit he suggested that the American Eagle, instead of grasping in its talons the thunderbolt of Jove, should be shown holding a spittoon on high. I daresay if he had come round the Horn to Victoria he would have noted a brisk trade in spittoons around here also.

Spittoons have gone the way of other pioneer memories, or at least nearly so. The last cuspidor was removed from all United States Federal buildings in 1945, and not many linger on in Victoria. If they do they are kept out of sight. We live in a more elegant age, so they say.

Apparently another impetus to cigarette smoking came with the invention of a machine for rolling them. That was so long ago as the Eighteen-Eighties, surprisingly enough, for most of the machines you see even today are so frail looking as to seem like the handiwork of an amateur carpenter. No wonder cowboys rolled their cigarettes with a flash of the hand; it's rather a bore bothering with a machine and non-cowboys can do the trick much more handily with two thumbs and two forefingers. Some folks I know are pastmasters at the business.

BEWITCHING VEGETABLE

One influence in the changing pattern of tobacco smoking not mentioned in the book review has been the incidence of finance ministers and their predilection for tripling the price of tobacco by the neat expedient of little stamps stuck on the packages. This more than anything else has caused a revival of the hand-rolled cigarette.

Seemingly, however, ever since Columbus discovered the "bewitching vegetable," tobacco has been tied closely to the social and political development of American life. According to "The Story of Tobacco in America," it shaped the colonial institutions of both Virginia and Maryland and was an important factor in the American Revolution. It is an important factor of life in Victoria right to this day, especially if you run out of cigarettes and all the stores are closed.

Pipe-smoking, snuff-sniffing, the quid, the cigar and the cigarette—all these have descended on the white man since Christopher left Spain. Perhaps Gene Tunney, who frowns on the weakness that finds solace in tobacco, would say it might have been better had the Admiral of the Ocean Sea stayed at home.

Benelux Countries Rebuild

By EUGENE C. PULLIAM
North American Newspaper Alliance

BRUSSELS.—Three little nations—Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — banded together for protection from the big bad wolves in the international forests have won another great victory in diplomatic co-operation. With the signing in London of the pact creating the Council of Europe, ten countries now are united in a program of self-help and mutual defence that had its origin in Belgium.

First there was Benelux, a simple co-operative arrangement between Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. Then came the five-power Pact of Brussels, which included Britain and France along with the Benelux trio. It was followed by the Marshall Plan and the allotment of funds under E.R.P. The North Atlantic Pact and now the Council of Europe—comprising the five Brussels Pact powers plus Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Italy and Ireland—complete the series of agreements which have welded Western Europe into the most cohesive force for unified action this continent has even seen in peacetime.

* * *

The guiding genius and the driving spirit of European participation in these agreements has been Paul-Henri Spaak, Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Belgium. I spent an hour with Dr. Spaak before he went to the National Assembly to lead the debate for acceptance of the North Atlantic Pact. He is frankly happy over the success of his constantly expanding plans for the rebuilding of Europe and the defence of his own little nation. However, he quite humbly gives major credit to "the deep understanding and traditional generosity of the American people" and to his colleagues in the foreign ministries of the participating countries.

Marshall Plan aid plus their own industry and ingenuity has put the Benelux countries on their feet. There has been amazing improvement in economic conditions and in the morale of the people since I was here in the Fall of 1947. Then there was fear, uncertainty and a marked degree of both moral and economic frustration. The Communists were getting a strong foothold in all the large industrial cities.

That is all changed now. There is direction and hope. There is very little unemployment in any of the three countries. The only fear is the fear of Russian aggression, and it is waning. The Communists, who were on the march in 1947, are now losing ground everywhere. Communist leaders here had announced a mass meeting to picket the National Assembly Tuesday when the debate on the North Atlantic Pact began. The mass meeting turned out to number exactly nine persons—all women.

* * *

The Benelux countries are prepared to fulfil their obligations with regard to the military phases of the North Atlantic Pact. They know it will mean more belt tightening and higher taxes. It will be especially tough for The Netherlands until it can wind up its Indonesian troubles, which I am told will be accomplished within a very short time. Each of the three countries is building up a small but highly efficient air force. Universal military training is in effect and accepted with very little opposition.

There is increasing insistence among leaders here that, if war comes, it will not be a European affair. Dr. Spaak never misses an opportuntiy to point out that world conditions have undergone a remarkable change and that neither of the two great powers of the world are regarded as European nations. In 1914 and in 1939 it was a European power declaring war on another European power; but that will not happen the next time, they tell you. They believe that eventually Russia will declare war on the United States and Western Europe will be caught in the middle.

There is no question as to where these countries will be in event of such a conflict. They already have taken their stand in signing the North Atlantic Pact. But they are very anxious for us to know that, whereas in 1914 and 1941 America came to the rescue of democracy in Europe, it will be democratic Europe coming to help America if and when Russia decides she is ready.

This approach to mutual problems of defence will be more and more emphasized and enunciated on this side of the Atlantic as confidence born of economic recovery returns to Western Europe.

Perpetual Motion

(From The Winnipeg Free Press)

CONCERNING the United States Government's new plan to support farm prices, the Christian Science Monitor says: "If the Administration's new farm program can do all its advocates say it will, it is hard to escape the conclusion that Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan has turned up with a sure-fire formula for perpetual motion."

The Brannan plan proposes to let farm prices seek their own level in the open market. This will tend to keep food prices low for the benefit of the consumer. But when prices fall below a level to be fixed by a formula the Government will subsidize the farmer. Apparently, therefore, Mr. Brannan will provide the miracle of high farm prices and low food prices.

As is all perpetual motion schemes, there is a catch in this one—the taxpayer, who is the food consumer, will pay the cost of subsidizing the farmer. And also the amount of food which the farmer may grow must be controlled by the Government, for otherwise an excessive production would require farm subsidies larger than the Treasury could afford or the taxpayer would tolerate.

Senator Aiken, a liberal Republican from Vermont, offers this penetrating comment: "If the Government is going to guarantee high prices to agriculture, shouldn't the Government reasonably guarantee high prices to industry?"

Where is the line to be drawn?

Symbols of Civilization

(From The Toronto Globe and Mail)

IT is certainly the inalienable right of any man to write a dictionary, and even to sell it if he can, but nowadays lexicography is a laborious business. The latest edition of the Collegiate Dictionary has added 15,000 new words, more than the original dictionaries had altogether.

A dictionary is a book that tells you on one page that a street is a thoroughfare, and on another page that a thoroughfare is a street. As the possibilities in this fascinating pursuit are endless, there is definitely a future for dictionaries. Their writers live the life of Riley. They can go word-hunting in beauty parlors, garages, airdromes, atomic plants, anywhere. No place is closed to them.

The new 15,000-plus dictionary has words and phrases like iron curtain, roomette, radar, cominform, disc jockey and other symbols of our advanced civilization. Its very catholicity led it to include motel so perhaps under the t's it found room for the good old tourist cabin. If complete, it will tell about smog, known by Chambers of Commerce and tourist promoters as filtered sunlight, and about snafu, whipped up on the spur of a moment from five words by an airman.

Jam is a word that has acquired a new meaning. It used to be what you sneaked in the pantry but now it's what Moscow is sending to the United States to stop radio broadcasts directed to Russia. And how about bustle, once a woman's prerogative but now the rear-end of an automobile? It has as good a right as motel in the revised dictionary.

Natural Gas Pipeline Planned From Alberta Into California

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP).—Plans for a 1,400-mile, 30-inch natural gas pipeline running from Alberta into Northern California were announced today. The cost was estimated at $175,000,000.

Frank McMahon, president of Pacific Petroleums, Limited of Canada, said the projected pipeline would originate in the northern part of Alberta. It would run west and then north through passes in the Canadian Rockies to Vancouver, and thence south through the State of Washington into Northern California.

SOLVE MARKETING

Extensive exploratory work since the war has confirmed the existence of large quantities of natural gas in Alberta, McMahon said. Since Canada would consume only a small part of the indicated potential delivery, he added, bringing the line over the United States border would solve the marketing problem.

Marketing surveys have indicated a demand in the Pacific Northwest and Northern California, upon completion of the pipeline, of about 500,000,00 cubic feet of natural gas daily, McMahon said.

The Canadian Parliament has passed an act creating a Canadian corporation, Westcoast Transmission Company, Limited, for the purpose of building and operating the Canadian part of the pipeline.

It is expected, the announcement said, an American corporation will be formed to build and operate the part of the line south of the border.

NEW YORK FINANCING

The announcement said the New York investment banking firm of Eastmon, Dillon & Company will handle the financing of the pipeline.

Although the method of financing was not announced, it is expected it will follow methods employed to underwrite pipelines now in operation in the United States. Some sources said 75 per cent of the cost of the pipeline probably would be met by the sale of mortgage bonds, 4 or 5 per cent, by term bank loans and the balance by sale of common and possibly some preferred stock.

U.B.C. Honors J. G. Taggart, Three Others

VANCOUVER, May 12 (CP).—It was a double date for James G. Taggart of Ottawa, Federal deputy minister of agriculture, and his 27-year-old son, John, today at the University of British Columbia.

Mr. Taggart received an honorary degree of Doctor of Science, in tribute to his work in agriculture, and son John, a Bachelor of Laws degree at graduation ceremonies.

Three other honorary degrees were presented by Chancellor Eric W. Hamber.

THOSE HONORED

Dr. 7. H. Brittain, Dean of Faculty of Agriculture at McGill University Montreal, and Agriculture Dean F. M. Clement of the U.B.C., both were awarded Doctor of Science degrees, and Prof. Basil J. Mathews, who recently retired as Professor of World Relations and Practical Theology at Union College here was awarded, in absentia, the Degree of Doctor of Laws. Prof. Mathews now is in England.

The 2,000 graduating students graduates made two graduation ceremonies necessary, one today and the final tomorrow for Arts and Commerce degrees.

The convocation address was read today by Dean Clement, a pioneer of the university who retires this Summer after service dating to 1916 the year U.B.C. was founded.

800 to Train With R.C.A.F.

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP). — More than 800 students from universities and colleges will take air force training this Summer in what the R.C.A.F. says is the largest peacetime Summer training program in history.

Air force training centres are preparing for the influx, which will be in addition to normal year-round training for members of the regular force. The Summer also will see the usual camp periods for Royal Canadian Air Cadets, the resumption of flying training for Air Cadets under the scholarship plan and camp periods for auxiliary squadrons.

A group of 200 will report to Abbotsford, B.C., from the Universities of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Members of the flights, on graduation and after spending three consecutive Summer training periods, become eligible for commissions in the regular, auxiliary or reserve R.C.A.F.

PET LOVERS' PARADISE

Officially opening to the public tomorrow (Saturday) morning, is Petland, situated at 822 Fort Street.

For many years the Hibberson brothers, well-known to pet-lovers in Victoria, have had an ambition to run a modern fully equipped pet store of their own.

This ambition has now been realized and a visit to the store will show that everything which they have thought should go into a store of this kind has been put into effect. It is a bright, clean, modern store where pet-lovers can receive advice on the care and raising of all domestic pets. All nationally advertised well-known branded makes of foods and remedies are on view on the shelves. Apart from purely domestic birds and animals, several of which are on view in the store, the Hibberson brothers handle all kinds of small livestock, birds, animals and fish life.

LATEST HOBBY

Tropical fish which are all the rage in the United States and the Old Country are also being handled, delivered as they are in glass tanks, some with various lighting effects, and apart from the actual decorative effects, they also provide a fascinating study of marine life.

FIFTY HAPPY BOYS AND GIRLS

As an attraction for the opening day, the Hibberson brothers are giving away 50 baby turtles to the first 50 lucky boys and girls to claim them.

LaFleche Gets New Post In Australia

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP).—Maj.-Gen. LaFleche, 60, dean of the Diplomatic Corps in Athens, has been appointed High Commissioner for Canada in Australia, it was announced today.

He succeeds Kenneth A. Greene of Ottawa, returning home after two years' service. It was not known whether Mr. Greene would be appointed to another post.

In 1932, Gen. LaFleche was appointed deputy minister of national defence.

When the Department of War Services was formed he was appointed deputy minister and became minister in 1942. Later the same year he was elected to the House of Commons in a by-election.

Winnipeg Landlords Can Increase Rents

WINNIPEG, May 12 (CP).—Landlords of self-contained apartments and homes in Winnipeg were given the right today by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to boost rents to counteract higher city property assessments.

Officials estimated the boost would amount roughly to 4½ per cent. Wishart E. Spence, deputy rentals administrator, said the increase would affect 8,000 to 12,000 tenants of self-contained homes and families in about 3,840 apartment suites.

Rescue Pilot 1948 Winner Of Top Award

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP).—Increasing importance of search and rescue work in Canada was pinpointed tonight with the announcement that a veteran of many mercy missions, F.O. R. B. West, of Canning, N.S., has won the McKee Trans-Canada Trophy for 1948.

F.O. R. B. WEST

The award, Canada's top civilian flying trophy, is given annually for meritorious service in the advancement of aviation.

F.O. West, who holds the D.F.C. and A.F.C. and a wartime service record, has more than 2,000 hours of flying on search and rescue operations alone. Now serving on recruiting duties at Rivers, Man., he was employed on East Coast operations from the end of the war until last February.

The 30-year-old pilot has taken part in many mercy flights on the East Coast, including two flights in January, 1948, to Mutton Bay and Harrington Harbor, Que., on the north shore of the St. Lawrence. Both these flights, to evacuate persons requiring immediate removal to hospital, were made under extremely difficult conditions and won for him the A.F.C. His D.F.C. came for wartime flying operations on the East Coast.

Rival Seamen's Unions Claim Gains; Owners Say 47 Ships Sailing Freely

MONTREAL, May 12 (CP).—The Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) strike is settling down to picket-line pace with both sides claiming gains in the battle for control of deep-sea jobs.

C.S.U. officials said the strike, marked by waterfront violence and arrests in its early stages, has become "more effective." Leaders of the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.), which signed with the Shipping Federation of Canada precipitating the C.S.U. strike March 31, said the situation is "clearing up every minute."

MANNED BY S.I.U.

A spokesman for the owners said 47 of the 79 ships involved are sailing "fully and freely, manned by S.I.U. crews."

Meanwhile, except for extra police patrolling the Vancouver waterfront after a minor skirmish between rival unionists Wednesday the situation was quiet.

C.S.U. pickets marched in Halifax and Saint John, N.B., where scores were arrested after clashes last month, and in Montreal.

In Montreal, where most of the shipping companies and the unions have their headquarters, Dan Daniels, C.S.U. press director, said 43 federation vessels are tied up in ports from Narvik, Norway, to Brisbane, Australia.

DOCKERS REFUSED

Dockers in at least ten countries outside Canada were refusing to handle S.I.U. manned ships, he said.

Hal Banks, international representative of the strongly-fightest S.I.U., said "wherever a C.S.U. crew ties up a ship we fly men there. We have already flown crews to Australia, British Guiana and the West Coast of Africa."

Mr. Banks said the union plans to hold a mass meeting in Avonmount, the port of Bristol, England, where C.S.U. crews have tied up several Canadian ships. The S.I.U. has sent an organizer to Britain.

DAVIS IN BRITAIN

Harry Davis, president of the allegedly Communist-held C.S.U., was reported already in the United Kingdom "in connection with union business."

A spokesman for the operators gave this picture of the situation: Of the 79 ships, 47 are sailing under full S.I.U. crews, 22 are "in the process" of having their C.S.U. crews replaced by the rival union; ten more still are sailing with C.S.U. crews which will be replaced when the ships reach "appropriate ports."

Quebec Court Dismisses Perreault Plea

MONTREAL, May 12 (CP).— Appeal of Douglas Perreault, one of three men sentenced to death for the slaying of two policemen, was unanimously dismissed today by the Quebec Court of Appeals.

In giving the judgment of the five justices, Mr. Justice Errol McDougall said the Crown's case was "so overwhelming" there was no necessity "to analyze in detail the evidence submitted."

Perreault was convicted last December 16 specifically of the murder of Constable Paul-Emile Duranleau and sentenced to be hanged March 25. Pending result of the appeal, the execution date was postponed to June 17.

TWO SHOT DOWN

Duranleau and Constable Nelson Paquin were shot down last September 23 immediately after the holdup of an east-end branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale.

Noel Cloutier, identified as one of two gunmen who ran from the bank, was hanged March 11.

Donald Perreault, unrelated to Douglas, turned King's evidence against his pals, whom he drove to the bank in his car. But Donald—branded "The Rat" by Cloutier in court—was himself convicted March 24.

Donald, who also lodged an appeal not yet dealt with, is under sentence to be hanged July 8.

ARRESTED IN TABER

Cloutier was captured in a laneway an hour after the holdup. Most of the $2,142 taken at gun-point in the bank was found stuffed in his shirt. Donald and Douglas Perreault were arrested two weeks later in Taber, Alberta.

LONDON (CP).—Builder John Kiddle offered to hand over his business to his two foremen if they would accept the worries and responsibilities. Their answer: "No, thank you."

CHINGFORD, Essex, England (CP).—By raising rents one shilling (20 cents) a week for 50 weeks the Christmas and Midsummer weeks can be "rent holidays" under a council plan.

R.V.Y.C. Power Boats In Action on Sunday

Marine News

One of the fastest-growing and most popular divisions of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club—the powerboat squadron—will officially commence its 1949 season this Sunday with a race around Discovery Island to a cove on the south side of Chatham Island. The contest will start from the Cadboro Bay headquarters of the yacht club.

E. N. Liersch, staff captain of the R.V.Y.C., who heads the powerboat division, reported yesterday the race would commence early in the afternoon with approximately 12 vessels participating.

The race will conclude with an informal "get together," during which time the contesting vessels will rendezvous in waters off Chatham and Discovery Islands. The actual race will cover a course of nearly six miles.

CONSTRUCTING FLOAT

Mr. Liersch also reported that construction of a 280-foot float for powerboats of the club is now under way. Being established at the clubhouse waterfront, the floats will accommodate at least 15 vessels, and will be for the exclusive use of powered craft. The floats will also permit Winter mooring.

During the past two years, the staff captain noted, the number of powerboat owners within the club has jumped from 45 to 85. In addition, an increasing number of power craft are visiting the local club from Puget Sound and other Pacific Northwest points.

Expansion of the powerboat fleet here is typical of practically all boating ports of the entire Pacific coast, Mr. Liersch said. Such fleets are growing rapidly from the Mexican border to Canada.

"MARINE PARKS"

He remarked that the United States Government is being of great assistance in establishing "marine parks" along the Pacific coast of that country. Such "parks" are being developed for use and convenience of pleasure craft of all types and design. The locations offer shelter, floats, and usually a store where supplies and fuel may be obtained.

The B.C. Provincial Government, it was reported, has been asked to extend the series of such "parks" along the British Columbia coastline.

It is the ultimate hope of the pleasure craft owners and organizations that such "marine parks" will be established at frequent intervals along the entire Pacific coastline.

Olympia Race July 8-9

Between five and seven vessels of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will participate in the annual International Powerboat Race to be held July 8 and 9 between Olympia, Wash., and Nanaimo.

E. N. Liersch, staff captain of the local yachting fraternity, said yesterday the race would be a predicted log event, and for some of the slower vessels may require as long as 30 hours to complete the course.

THOSE REGISTERED

Those who have registered for the race to date from the local yacht club, and the names of their craft, are as follows: H. W. Miller, Dawn; James Mathews, Phyllis F.; E. N. Liersch, Kit Gard, and Jack and Alban Nelson, Vanguard.

The course of the race includes three passes, and owners of vessels plying through those waterways will find them a challenge to their navigational ability. The passes are The Narrows, near Olympia; Deception Pass and Dodd's Narrows.

Official observers will be aboard all participating craft, to see that all rules and regulations of the event are closely observed.

Use of Harbor Explained

Capt. Ronald Newell, Victoria harbormaster, yesterday offered an explanation regarding floats, mooring buoys and anchorage space in the waterway immediately off the Causeway and bounded by a line from the C.P.R. docks on one side of the harbor and premises of Island Tug & Barge Ltd. on the other.

That area, he said, as far as possible, was meant for the use of visiting yachts and small craft. It was not intended that any vessel should monopolize any of the float, buoy or anchorage facilities for lengthy periods.

This request, Capt. Newell said, was made with a regard toward a public service to visitors to the city who came in their own vessels. The arrangements as outlined were also made with a view to assisting customs and immigration officials who make routine inspections of all vessels entering the harbor from another country.

SEVERAL IN NEWS

Several vessels have been in the news recently in connection with this matter. Some time ago the apparently abandoned fishing boat Esmeralda was removed from the waterway. Latest craft to enter the picture was the 30-foot fishboat Husker, occupied by James Stewart and his elderly mother. Dark green in color, and constituting the home of this couple, and their terrier, this craft had been monopolizing facilities of the waterway for some time past. Yesterday suitable arrangements were made to have the Husker removed to another location where it would not interfere with visiting boats.

Medical director-General for Naval Services, Surgeon Captain A. McCallum, O.B.E., V.R.D., R.C.N., is seen in this photograph at right, returning greeting of staff of Royal Canadian Naval Hospital at H.M.C.S. Naden, as he enters for inspection. With him is Surgeon Commander W. J. Elliott, R.C.N., principal medical officer of R.C.N. hospital. Surgeon Capt. McCallum, here on annual inspection of hospital and medical facilities of Pacific Coast Naval Command, expressed gratification at high physical standard of recruits enlisted in navy. His five-day visit will end today when he returns to Naval Headquarters in Ottawa.

New Navy Radio Setup

A new navy communications system stretching from coast to coast and virtually eliminating the use of commercial land telegraph lines by the senior service was announced at Ottawa yesterday.

The navy has begun installation of new microwave radio equipment at key points in its nation-wide communications chain and the new system is expected to be in operation early this Fall.

The microwave links, developed and tested by the R.C.N., are being installed between the naval radio stations at Albro Lake and Newport Corner, N.S.; Aldergrove and Sumas Mountain, B.C., and Naval Headquarters and the Naval Receiving Station at Gloucester, Ontario, 18 miles south of Ottawa.

FULLY MODERN SYSTEM

Combined with the radio-teletype system already operating between headquarters here and the two major bases at both coasts, the new links will provide a completely modern radio system from coast to coast.

Only land cables remaining in use in the navy's system after the new units are completed next Fall will be between Command Headquarters at Halifax and Esquimalt and their inland receiving stations and between Naval Headquarters and its transmitting station at Orleans, Ontario, 12 miles east of Ottawa.

GREATER FACILITIES

"In addition to providing greatly-increased transmission facilities," the announcement said, "the use of microwave equipment will reduce considerably the maintenance cost of the system by cutting to a minimum the number of miles of commercial cable under lease to the navy."

Practicability of the new equipment, both commercially and for service communications, was established by the R.C.N. in September, 1947, in tests carried out between Albro Lake and Newport Corner.

Whiteley on Inspection

Maj.-Gen. J. F. M. Whiteley, C.B., C.B.E., M.C., of the Royal Engineers, here on a visit to Victoria, yesterday morning visited the Three Services College at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads. There he met with Capt. H. S. Rayner, commandant of the college, Instructor Capt. W. Ogle, R.C.N., the college's director of studies, and other staff members.

His visit to the college lasted about an hour, during which time he was conducted on a tour through the college and other buildings and was familiarized with operations of the establishment.

ON LOAN FROM U.K.

On loan from the United Kingdom, Maj-Gen. Whiteley has been acting as commandant of the Defence College at Kingston for the past two years, a post that terminated recently. He is now making a tour of the Dominion before returning to Great Britain. Last night he addressed a meeting of the United Services Institute at the Bay Street Armoury.

The previous night a Great War friendship was renewed after 30 years when the visiting officer was entertained at the home of Col. H. T. Goodland, 3075 Cadboro Bay Road. The two had not met since the 1915 campaign in Salonika, Greece. At that time both were members of the British Army's 10th Division.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

T. E. Morrison, local agent for the Department of Transport, yesterday issued two following notices to all B.C. mariners:

Mariners are advised that a new fog alarm sound signal, synchronized for distance finding with the radio beacon signal, has been established at Pachena Point on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. The new characteristic is two blasts of three seconds each separated by a silence of four seconds, repeated twice in two minutes, followed every third minute by two synchronised blasts of one second and five seconds duration respectively, separated by a silent interval of one second.

Mariners are advised that it has been found impractical to maintain the two red wooden spar buoys in False Narrows between Gabriola and Mudge Islands on the East Coast of Vancouver Island owing to the buoys being repeatedly carried away by log booms. These two spar buoys will accordingly be discontinued.

NEAR COLLISION

Wednesday afternoon the C.P.R. passenger ship Ss. Princess Marguerite came within five feet of ramming the ferry Motor Princess broadside at the Inner Harbor docks of the C.P.R.

Completing a regular trip from Vancouver to this port, the Marguerite was edging forward alongside the dock with a mooring line from her bow secured to the dock. The vessel continued to travel forward. The heavy line tightened, strained, and finally snapped. The ship continued forward toward the side of the smaller Motor Princess.

The Marguerite was stopped by her engines when her bow was five feet from the smaller ship.

SAVES $25,000 SCOW

A fast-working tug captain yesterday saved a $25,000 scow when it went adrift from the tug George M. Lindsay in First Narrows waters.

The Lindsay was outbound from Vancouver with two loaded box scows when the rear scow caught in the tide rip and the line parted.

The inbound tug Shepody, skippered by Captain Steve O'Neill, managed to hook a line on the scow as she hit the West Shore just outside the First Narrows Bridge.

The scow was towed back to Vancouver. The extent of damage is not immediately known.

REVAMP POST OFFICE

EDMONTON (CP).—Renovation of the city's main post office is being started almost immediately. Alterations costing approximately $30,000 will include elimination of the present high wickets. They will be replaced by modern "bank style" counters.

The time used is Pacific Standard for Victoria, B.C. the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

LEAMINGTON, ONT., May 12th—Forty years ago this month the House of Heinz installed their first Canadian kitchens at Leamington, Ontario. 1909 . . . the year when men could buy made-to-measure suits for as little as $5.14 and women could buy sateen petticoats, 42" long, for $2.00! 1909 . . . the year Heinz started in Canada and, from humble beginnings, expanded to an all-Canadian operation with 16 sales branches . . . and thousands and thousands of friends. Yes, the name Heinz is known wherever good food is appreciated! And so it is that this month your grocer—and grocers all over Canada—are celebrating HEINZ 40TH ANNIVERSARY with special displays of the famous 57 Varieties! Look for your grocer's Heinz display when you go shopping tomorrow!

"To Put It Mildly", said a friend of mine . . . "I'm crazy about TENDER LEAF TEA BALLS!" Perhaps this doesn't sound like a "mild" statement to you . . . But I know what she means. Thousands of women are switching to the new improved Tender Leaf Tea Balls. They're Orange Pekoe at its tastiest . . . made from the little top leaves. So easy to serve . . . and so economical! Know what I discovered? I can get two cups of delicious tea from just one tea ball! Why not try Tender Leaf Tea Balls? I'm sure you'll find, this brand has the flavour, body and everything you've ever wanted in tea!

And it's the easiest way I know to mothproof your woollens—coats—suits—dresses or rugs . . . simply spray it on! It actually mothproofs the cloth itself for a whole year. What's more, after you've mothproofed a garment the Larvex way—it's ready for immediate wear, as there's not the faintest tell-tale "moth-ball" odour. And it's inexpensive . . . costs no more to "Larvex" a suit than to get it dry-cleaned. 3 tbspns. Crown Brand Corn Syrup
1/3 cup granulated sugar
1½ tbspns. Benson's Corn Starch
1/16 tspn. salt

1 tbspn. butter
½ tspn. vanilla

Melt chocolate in saucepan over low heat. Add Crown Brand Syrup and blend. Combine sugar, Benson's Corn Starch and salt and add to first mixture. Israeli Flag Hoisted At U.N. Site

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 12 (CP).—The banner of Israel today was hoisted in the flag circle at United Nations headquarters in a simple ceremony marking the full international recognition of the year-old state.

A crowd estimated at 600 persons sang the Israeli national anthem, Hatikva, as United Nations officials raised the flag—two light-blue horizontal bars on a white background with a blue Star of David centred.

IRONICAL PLACEMENT

Moshe Sharett, Israel's foreign minister, who took his country's seat last night in the General Assembly, stood at the base of the flagpole, set between those of Iraq and the Lebanon. The ironical stationing of Israel between two Arab countries results from placement by alphabetical order.

The six Arab delegates, who last night walked out of the Assembly Hall after Israel's successful bid to become United Nation's 59th member, were at their places in committee rooms today.

Sunshine Togs for Children Gay With New Style Ideas

Let the sun shine on small shoulders this year, shoulders as bare of straps as mother's or sister's playclothes. Select for the tiniest girls clothes that are just as fashion-conscious as those her mother wears. It's easy to do, for all the smart details that have been designed for grown-ups have been adapted to clothes for smaller fry too.

Dress-up dresses and play clothes alike are delightful replicas in miniature of sunback dresses, strapless "gowns" and two-piecers with bare midriff from high-fashion collections. There are boleros and jackets as cover-ups to make a play costme into a dress that may be worn to Sunday school or for shopping.

The stores are full of such a variety of styles that it is impossible to discuss them all but a few will serve to illustrate the selection. They start with little wrapped-and-tied play and sun suits for the diaper crowd of 9 to 18 months (delightfully trimmed or embroidered and usually in two-color combinations). They range through individual types for small personalities to smooth dresses with a sophisticated air for the girl of about six years.

There are rompers and sun suits in the 1 to 3 range with bustle back, with separate boleros or with bare midriff. Dresses boast ballerina skirts, boned bodices in strapless dresses (with stole or bolero), or dropped shoulder line in dressier models. Elasticized bodice, ruffle trimming and other grown-up details are found. Dark and light color combinations are especially good, though there are plenty of dresses in pastel and other colors.

As the girl grows older, the dresses take on even more of the sophisticated air. Strapless dresses with whalebone in the bodice also have optional straps, and are particularly lovely in pastels with a matching ruffle-edged bolero. There's a clever stole-bolero which is easier to handle than a plain stole. Some dresses have matching panties, and there are also "separates," charming peasant blouses to wear with cotton skirts.

For boys, there is an almost limitless variety of shorts and shirts, cardigans and sweaters that are trimmed or not, according to age and taste. Appliqued animals amuse the little tots while more dignified regatta, Gaucho or Western shirts take on a manly air for older boys. Some can be matched to dresses in brother and sister teams.

Prairie Trip Follows Rites

The marriage of Evelyn Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Weisgarber, Regina, Saskatchewan, to Leon Katchuik, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Katchuik, of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, was solemnized by Rev. Father Donal Lehane, at a quiet ceremony Saturday evening at the Bishop's House, St. Andrew's Cathedral.

The pretty bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Anthony Weisgarber, was radiant in white slipper satin fashioned with lace yoke, lily point sleeves and full skirt. A coronet of brocaded satin held her floor-length veil and she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. A Colonial bouquet of red roses and white carnations, completed her costume.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Mrs. Bernard Crump, matron of honor, wearing Nile green, and Miss Tilly Weisgarber, bridesmaid, with Mrs. Shirley Lund, the latter two wearing mauve. Their gowns were of nylon sheer similarly styled and worn with matching picture hats. Mrs. Crump carried yellow daffodils and white carnations, and the other two had mauve iris and white carnations.

Mr. Larry Katchuik, supported his brother.

The reception was held at Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street. The table, decorated with Spring flowers and lighted by white candles, was centred with the three-tiered cake. Mr. Bernard Crump gave the toast to his sister-in-law.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip, which will take them to Saskatchewan to visit their parents, the bride wore a Royal blue gabardine three-piece suit with dark blue hat trimmed with white flowers, blue and white accessories and a corsage of red roses and lily of the valley.

The couple will make their home in Victoria.

Business of Canada "Kept Ticking" By Skeleton Crew in Vote Campaign

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP). — Though Canada now has no Parliament and most of the Cabinet has forsaken the capital for the stump, the business of the nation keeps ticking along through the election campaign.

A skeleton crew of the Cabinet—shifting in personnel from day to day as ministers flit between Ottawa and the hustings—keeps the wheels turning in the period between [illegible]

FOUR-MAN DIRECTION

Four men—plus the Governor-General—can direct the affairs of Canada during the period between dissolution and election—in this case from April 30 to June 27.

That's all it takes for a quorum of Cabinet Council, which continues to function as the executive of the Government, even though none of its members hold electoral seats.

The four can pass orders in council with just as much authority as the full complement of 20 Cabinet members.

Furthermore, they don't even have to meet here. Prime Minister St. Laurent could call a Cabinet Council meeting tomorrow in his hotel room at Lunenburg, N.S.—if three other ministers happened to be in town—and put through some valid measures.

HOW THINGS WORK

But the way things work during a period such as the campaign is this:

With the Prime Minister and his Cabinet men shuttling all over the country, the Cabinet secretariat here keeps track of all developing business needing Cabinet attention and also of the whereabouts of the individual Cabinet members. At least some of these are in Ottawa every day, usually a quorum. When there is enough business to call for a session, the secretariat will notify the senior Cabinet Minister here. He will call a meeting of whoever is in town.

INFORM PRIME MINISTER

The Prime Minister is kept posted on major matters, of course, and he advises the hold-the-fort Cabinet on his wishes. It is not on record that these have ever been bucked since Confederation.

There is no definite quorum for a Cabinet meeting. Authorities here say four is generally regarded as the minimum.

In practice during a campaigning stretch such as the present, there is continuous consultation by mail, wire and telephone among all the major Cabinet Ministers. The distillation [illegible] gathered around the council table in Ottawa.

Tractor Slated to Be Mainstay Of Arctic Military Equipment

CHURCHILL, Man., May 11 (Reuters).—Three years' research into problems of Arctic warfare has taught Canadian, United States and British soldiers that the tractor is an army's most useful item of equipment in the North.

Heavy tractors with broad caterpillar treads have been familiar in the north woods for two decades, and it was lumbermen who also pioneered the tractor train, now destined to become the mainstay of any Arctic military force.

NO SERIOUS HITCHES

Tests on tractor-train operation have been going on at Churchill through the Winter, and operations ranging up to 400 miles from camp were carried out without a serious hitch.

The average train comprises the tractor, two cargo sleighs and a "wannegan." The "wannegan" is a Canadian contribution, and the main secret of long-range operations. It is a bunkhouse on runners which can be converted into a mobile workshop.

Three or more trains traveling close together are called a "swing." They make surprisingly good time through bush or over the barrens and can move over almost any northern terrain in Winter.

Maps of the Canadian North were based largely on guesswork—which gives some comfort to Canadian military officials since it means that any maps in the hands of potential enemies are highly misleading. The North now is being recharted from the air, and for obvious reasons the new maps will be withheld from publication for a while.

CARRY GUIDE

Meantime, tractor-train operators rely on what the army calls "local knowledge," usually a native guide who has trapped furs in the area.

Each "swing" carries a navigator to establish positions with sextant, compass and dead reckoning.

The first "swing" on the final exercise required 46 days for an 800-mile trip because of a series of mishaps. A later "swing" covered the same route in 16 days, without a hitch. At the end of the exercise, every man volunteered to return next Winter.

"It's a wonderful life," said Lieut. R. M. Day of Salmon Arm, B.C. "Nobody even had a cold, though it got down to 60 below zero at times."

NOT SO RUGGED

Cpl. Albert Kraehling of Kitchener, Ont., who drove one big tractor, said: "A man really gets away from it all out there. I'll go again any time."

Kraehling said that during one difficult stage of the journey "we really thought we were roughing it.

"Then we saw a dog team approaching from ahead. It was an Eskimo family on the move—ten dogs, a man, his wife, and their six kids. One three-year-old girl was carrying the little baby on her back. They all seemed very happy, and it took us down a peg.

"We didn't feel quite so rugged after that."

According to Culbertson - - -

Analysis of what the declarer would do under varying circumstances is, by all odds, the surest defensive guide in countless deals. For example:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ K J 8 5 3
♥ A 4 2
♦ 9
♣ A K 7 4

WEST
♠ 4
♥ Q 8 7 3
♦ K Q 6 2
♣ J 9 5 2

EAST
♠ 7
♥ K 9 6
♦ J 10 8 5 4 3
♣ Q 10 3

SOUTH
♠ A Q 10 9 6 2
♥ J 10 5
♦ A 7
♣ 8 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	5 N.T.	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond king. South won, drew the necessary round of trumps, then ruffed his losing diamond in dummy. He led two more rounds of trumps, possibly in the hope of coaxing favorable discards from enemy, but when both defenders discarded diamonds, South led the heart deuce from the board.

East reacted precisely as declarer hoped he would! Perhaps East feared that if he didn't put up the heart king he would lose it—at any rate, he did play that card, and that was the effective end of the defence. Declarer would, of course, have taken a heart finesse through West if it had been necessary, but he was relieved of even that small chore when East returned a heart.

East should have given a little more thought to his first heart play! The situation could be reasoned out clearly enough. South was marked with six trumps, and if he had started with three diamonds, the defenders could fold their tents, because South would then have six spade tricks, two clubs, one heart, one diamond, and two diamond ruffs in dummy. So, if the hand could possibly be defeated, South would have to have five cards in hearts and clubs. But if he had three clubs he would lead ace, king and a third round to try for a 3-3 break in the suit! When he did not make that play—East could know that South did not have three clubs, hence must have three hearts, and there was no possible advantage in East's play of the heart king.

Think Remains To Be Those Of Cartier

ST. MALO, France, May 12 (AP).—Lively interest has been aroused in this fishing and resort town by discovery of a skeleton believed to be that of Jacques Cartier, 16th-Century Navigator known as the discoverer of Canada.

Pending formal identification, the St. Malo Town Council has decided to ask the French Government for funds to provide a new burial site here in the castle of Duchess Anne of Britanny. The castle's chapel will be made into a shrine recalling Cartier's exploits as navigator and explorer.

Public ceremonies will be arranged to mark transfer of remains from the St. Malo Cathedral where they were discovered last month.

Guy La Chambre, Mayor of St. Malo, said he believes the remains "almost certainly" are those of the celebrated French navigator who in 1536 sailed up the St. Lawrence River and stopped at Hochelaga, Indian village on the site of which Montreal now stands.

Will Increase Wheat Acreage

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP).—Canadian farmers have indicated they intend to seed 26,965,200 acres to wheat this year, compared with 24,105,900 last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

This total includes 26,254,200 acres of Spring wheat and 711,000 of Fall wheat, compared with 23,247,400 and 858,500 acres, respectively, last year.

CUBS EXPORTED

SWAN RIVER, Man. (CP).—Two six-week-old bear cubs were shipped to a wild animal farm recently by George Alderson. They came from 25 miles west of town where the mother bear was shot when she came out of hibernation. The cubs are being fed on milk.

Israel Supports Indian Plan For Trusteeship of Somaliland

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 12 (AP).—Israel today leaped into the United Nations fight over the former Italian colonies to support an Indian proposal for a collective trusteeship over Libya and Italian Somaliland.

India was one of the countries voting against Israel's bid for membership just 24 hours earlier. The [illegible] was the young state's first political statement since becoming a member.

REJECTS U.K. PROPOSAL

Aubrey Eban, Israeli delegate, made it clear before the 59-member first political committee that he would not support a British-Italian plan for disposal of Mussolini's prewar African Empire, now administered by British Forces.

The committee is scheduled to meet in night session in an attempt to reach a decision on what to recommend to the main assembly before Saturday, the target closing date of the session.

Issues the assembly will definitely have before it when it meets tomorrow at Flushing Meadow are freedom of information and treatment of Indians in South Africa.

INDEPENDENCE SLATED

The Indian plan is the latest in a series of proposals which have divided the political committee. It would provide:

1. A collective trusteeship over Libya and Italian Somaliland with the administrative machinery to be worked out by the assembly's trusteeship and administrative committee.

2. The two territories would be given their independence within 20 years.

3. A seven-country commission to decide, through a plebiscite or other means, whether the people of Eritrea wish to be a part of Ethiopia or not.

MYTHOLMROYD, Yorkshire, England (CP).—At a secret moorland rendezvous The Henpecked Husbands' Club held its annual meeting. On the agenda were resolutions saying members will refuse their wives' requests to queue for candies, plead with butchers for special cuts and pay for crockery smashed in the wash-up.

Wheat Kings Even Memorial Cup Play

Force Eighth Game by Defeating Royals to Climax Great Comeback

BRANDON, Man., May 12 (CP)—Brandon Wheat Kings, uncovering dormant power after being two games down, capped a great comeback by blasting Montreal Royals 8-1 here tonight to force a sudden-death deciding game in their Memorial Cup junior hockey final. The contest, the eighth of a series originally scheduled as a best-of-seven affair, will be played at Winnipeg Monday.

In setting a new record for a Memorial Cup final [illegible] games, the two clubs battled [illegible] for two periods. But the roof fell in on Royals' hopes in the third period when Wheat Kings [illegible] goals in less than three minutes to sew up the game.

KING SETS PACE

Brandon again was led by their Captain Frank King who scored one goal and assisted on [illegible] Art Hannah [illegible] Ray Andrew and Mac Beaton [illegible] the [illegible] scored for Montreal [illegible].

Before Wheat Kings [illegible] in the last period [illegible] had [illegible] up to [illegible] and were [illegible] to wipe out Brandon's 2-1 lead [illegible] the Easterners [illegible] time and again at the Brandon goal mouth by Ray Frederick [illegible] his phenomenal saves. [illegible] Montreal goalie was tested in a [illegible] despite the five goals scored on him.

ROYALS TAKE CHANCES

The first two periods were fairly [illegible] although the bumping was [illegible]. In the final period Royals threw caution to the winds, piled [illegible] in an effort to gain the tie [illegible] would have given them the [illegible].

But it wasn't to be and it was Brandon that came through. Four [illegible] penalties were handed out in [illegible] doling out [illegible] two for each [illegible].

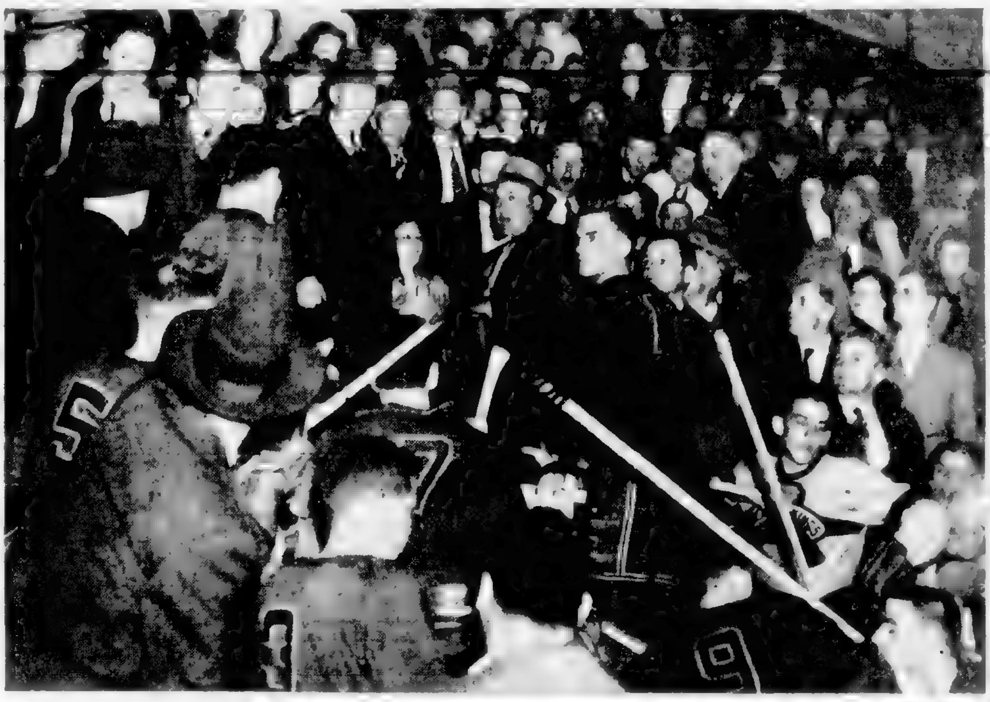
TAKE EASY LEAD

Brandon [illegible] to take a 1-0 [illegible] when Frank [illegible] Vic Fildes [illegible] Bleau [illegible] pass [illegible] at 10.42 of [illegible] margin as [illegible] under the [illegible] had [illegible] Bob Frampton [illegible].

MOVE PAYS OFF

[illegible] third [illegible] Cronin [illegible] at Bleau and [illegible] from the [illegible] a minor [illegible] and Kings [illegible] their bewildered opponents [illegible] netting two quick [illegible]. King found the corner through a maze of players and only 26 seconds later Beaton completed [illegible] on a pass from King.

[illegible] quickly subdued [illegible] that threatened to develop into a [illegible] in the [illegible]. Minor penalties were [illegible] Brian Roche and [illegible] of Brandon and Reale [illegible] and Bill Rattray of [illegible] all for fighting.



Spectator Gives Ground in Puck Final

One of most hectic moments in sixth game of Memorial Cup series between Brandon Wheat Kings and Montreal Royals came in second period when fan took it upon himself to get embroiled with number of Montrealers. Spectator, ousted from Brandon rink for his actions, sought to take out his displeasure on Montreal's Gordie Knutsen (10) who had been sent to penalty box with Brandon's Bob Chrystal. Other members of Royals came to rescue in hurry. Montreal players in picture include Gord. Armstrong (5), Matt Benoit (?), [illegible] Appleby (3) and Neale Langille (4). Only Brandon player visible is Glen Sommer.

Ex-Teammate Bothers Suds As Oaks Win

Lloyd Christopher, who used to play for Seattle, made the Rainiers regret they ever let him go last night. The big outfielder hit two home runs, one with the bases loaded, as Oakland Acorns [illegible] to take a 7-6 triumph at Seattle.

At Portland the Hollywood Stars, Coast League leaders, took another extra-inning win from the Beavers. They scored four runs in the [illegible] for a 9-5 victory. [illegible] hit two home runs and Max West [illegible] as San Diego trounced Los Angeles 9-1.

Detroit Wins Mound Duel To Stop Senators' Skein

By The Canadian Press

As it must to all streaks, an end came yesterday to Washington's nine-game winning skein in the American League. Detroit Tigers gave the Senators their come-uppance, 2-1, as the breaks [illegible] went against the [illegible] amazing fugitives from the second division.

Clyde Vollmer, the rookie outfielder whose slugging was one of the major factors [illegible] from the cellar to fourth place, committed an error that set up the winning run in a tight pitchers' battle between Walt Masterson and Detroit's Virgil Trucks.

Trucks scattered five hits to post his fifth victory against a single loss.

STEPHENS ENDS DUEL

Vern Stephens hit [illegible] homer [illegible] in the majors [illegible] in the 11th [illegible] Boston Red Sox a 2-1 edge over the White Sox.

Chicago's rookie left-fielder, Gus Zernial, hauled down long flies off the bats of Johnny Pesky and Ted Williams before Stephens [illegible] the ball out of reach in the left field stands. Lefty Mel Parnell allowed seven hits and fanned [illegible] winning his fourth game [illegible].

GIANT BATS HALTED

A four-hit shutout by Ken Raffensberger dropped New York Giants into a first place tie with the idle Boston Braves in the National League as they lost 3-0 to Cincinnati Reds.

Clint Hartung, unbeaten in four previous starts, was clipped for nine hits and all three Redleg tallies in the eight innings he worked.

Brooklyn Dodgers moved within a single game of the top rung by outslugging Pittsburgh Pirates 11-? Ralph Branca staggered [illegible] for his fifth victory though tagged freely for 13 safeties.

Former Clevelander Hank Borowy [illegible] them in a Phil [illegible] as the Phils eked [illegible] 4-3 [illegible].

St. Louis Browns, rebounding from a [illegible] losing streak, won [illegible] over the Athletics [illegible] Philadelphia Athletics 9-3.

Keen competition for [illegible] honors in the city's annual Inter-High School Swimming Gala to be held tonight at the Crystal Garden is expected with ten schools having more than 15 entries each. The gala, under the [illegible] of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, will get under way at 7.30 p.m.

The largest entry on record, 311, will take part in the gala with Victoria High School topping the list [illegible] with 35 and Lampson Street leading the elementary schools with 24. The two schools are defending the Sir Edward Beatty [illegible] and the V.A.S.C. Cup for elementary [illegible] respectively.

Red's Service Wins Easily In First Start

Red's Service women's senior "A" softball entry, which is forced to play in A section of the Senior "B" League for want of other competition, had little trouble in its first game of the season at Lower Central last night.

Held in check for three innings, winners exploded for 16 runs, including a three-run homer by Evelyn Slater in a wild fourth frame and went on to an easy 28-4 triumph.

Ruth Oster hurled the distance for Reds and gave up only one earned run in the fourth, an unearned marker in the second and two tainted tallies in the fifth.

Winners scored in every inning, picking up singletons in the first, second and fifth, three in the fourth and seven in the sixth in addition to their big total in the fourth.

In a senior "B" men's test at Work Point, Westinghouse Airways took a 14-3 decision from Sidney Roofing. Barry Jackson scattered seven hits for winners and was backed by an attack that included home runs by Herb Bate and Les Porter.

Jim Gordon pitched Post Office to a 12-6 triumph over Canadian Scottish in a senior "C" men's game at Heywood Avenue. He aided his own cause with a grand slam homer in the sixth.

Palmer Leads Golf Pros In Famed Goodall Meet

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., May 12 (AP)—Johnny Palmer of West Baden, N.C., shot a two-under-par 70 over the Wykagyl Country Club course today to post a point total of plus 14 and take the lead over 15 fellow professionals after the first round of the Goodall round robin tournament.

Skip Alexander of Lexington, N.C., and Jim Turnesa of Briar Cliff, N.Y., each posted a 71 to tie for second in the standings with plus 11 each.

Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Texas, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis shot the day's two best scores, a pair of sparkling 69's, yet could do no better than tie in the next notch, each with plus 9. They ran into tougher opposition than the leaders.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., scored a 73 to stand plus 2, while Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Bobby Locke of South Africa, the favorite, each stood plus 1 by virtue of 71's. They were the last of the plus boys.

From there the field descended dizzily down to Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., who wound up with a glaring minus 17 as a result of shooting a 78.

Play was in foursomes, with each player in a group matching his medal score against that of his three opponents for the round. Five such rounds will be played, the last scheduled on Sunday.

Clear Weather Now Forecast For Preakness

BALTIMORE, May 12 (AP)—The rain has all blown away and a forecast for clear and sunny Preakness weather skyrocketed the stock of the two "speed" horses—Capot and Noble Impulse.

This turn in events, after an earlier prediction of an off track, [illegible] about fixed the field at eight horses for the $75,000-added classic at Pimlico Saturday.

The weatherman's welcome change in signals was fine news for most trainers and owners, and with a fast track this 73rd Preakness could develop into a race with tactics not unlike last week's Kentucky Derby.

Five of the Derby field are here for the Maryland star attraction, headed by Calumet Farm's Ponder—surprise winner at Louisville. The others are Greentree Stable's Capot, second in the Derby; Isidor Bieber's Palestinian, third; Clifford Mooers's Old Rockport, fourth, and Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Model Cadet, seventh.

Three others who passed up the Derby complete the line-up. They are Crispin Oglebay's speedy Noble Impulse, King Ranch's Curandero and Mrs. E. H. Ellison, Jr.'s Sun Bahram.

Sensational performances by winning hurlers marked games in the Inter-High School Baseball League yesterday, with Bruce Auchinvole and Norm Forbes in the starring roles.

Auchinvole pitched a no-hit, no-run game for Oak Bay as his teammates shelled two Mt. Douglas hurlers for a 20-0 triumph in a contest abbreviated to five innings.

Forbes gave indications of becoming a far greater hurler than his father was by striking out 21 batters in a seven-inning contest as Victoria High School Blacks trimmed Mt. View 8-2 in their first start. Forbes allowed but two hits and lost his shutout through catching errors.

Better Golf

Several letters from readers indicate uncertainty as to how the backswing is made. Perhaps today's picture will make it clearer for about six or eight inches back of the ball you carry the clubhead along the imaginary direction line [illegible] green. As your hands start rotate [illegible] way the shoulder pivot [illegible]. The pivot carries the club inside of the direction line as pictured. The clubhead continues upward in this plane. When the hands are dead high the plane of the swing is about 45 degrees from the perpendicular. If the plane of the swing is more than 45 degrees [illegible] swinging flat. Notice that when the hands are nearing hip high your left arm and clubshaft still form a straight line. Then when the hands are [illegible] high, the cocking [illegible] of the wrists slowly starts, but your hands do not reach the full cocked position until you are at the top of the backswing. At that time your hands are head high and your hands are directly above your right shoulder. When you're in that position your hips will have pivoted about 45 degrees from their position when you are addressing the ball and your shoulders will have pivoted about 90 degrees from their position at the address.

Bears, Senators Win

There seems to be no stopping the [illegible] Yakima Bears. The W.I.L. leaders kept right on going last night as Tiny Ted Savarese southpawed his way to a 6-1 victory over the Bremerton Bluejackets at Bremerton. Savarese scattered six hits while his club benefited from four Bremerton errors.

Spokane's surprising Indians, figured to be a ranking pennant contender, dropped into the basement again as they lost a ten-inning battle to Tacoma Tigers. Winners tied it up in the eighth and scored [illegible] in the tenth when Dick Greco hit a 400-foot home run and Jim [illegible] Moses Brockman [illegible] Gordon Ward then [illegible] a Spokane rally in the last half of the tenth after the Indians had scored [illegible] and had the tying and winning runs on.

At Vancouver the Capilanos failed [illegible] 7-2 lead as Salem's [illegible] Senators came up with two five-run innings to take a slugfest 13-11. Caps picked up 18 hits [illegible] four of their pitchers [illegible] Salem [illegible] their last five runs in the ninth. The win went to Jim [illegible] and Larry Manier was charged with the loss.

The East-West [illegible] ... season exhibition.

The Goodall golf tournament which started at Wykagyl, Westchester, [illegible] to golf. In addition to a number of [illegible] hand-to-hand battles between 16 of the finest golfers in the world, the entire gate receipts go to New Rochelle hospital fund.

Last Spring this fund reached $5,000, with $900 more added by Herman Barron, the 1948 winner. The 1949 Goodall show should be good for at least $25,000.

STERN GOLF TEST

It means one of the hardest tests in golf [illegible] to follow Sammy Snead, Byron Nelson and Bobby Locke.

These are not all. There will be Lloyd Mangrum, [illegible] Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis ex-dentist who hopes to pick up where Ben Hogan left off.

This tournament is even tougher than an Open. Four men play against each other [illegible] points. For example, [illegible] Snead [illegible] a three [illegible] Mangrum [illegible] two points.

[illegible]

Barron [illegible]

Middlecoff has [illegible] a high degree [illegible] of West Virginia's [illegible] and if he can keep the pace [illegible] be the fastest part [illegible] out.

LOCKE JUST MISSED

A year ago Barron [illegible] 38 points. Bobby Locke [illegible] great stretch [illegible] fell just six points short. [illegible] there should be one of the finest finishes and one of the closest in Goodall history.

New York [illegible] Augusta [illegible] New York should be good for half this attendance through four days.

GOLF DAYS AHEAD

Golf has big days ahead in the way of keen competition. After the Goodall we get the P.G.A. at Richmond and then the British Amateur. After his victory at Augusta in the Masters Snead will make his next [illegible] in the Goodall and the P.G.A.

With Hogan [illegible] champion [illegible] Snead, Middlecoff, Demaret and Mangrum are among those in the lead.

A short while ago we had a note from Walter Hagen Jr. asking us to write a few words for the P.G.A. program. The [illegible] we could think of was the remarkable feat accomplished by Walter Hagen, his father [illegible].

REMARKABLE RECORD

In these five years Hagen won 29 out of 30 P.G.A. starts. Only a miracle recovery after a lucky break gave Gene Sarazen the chance to beat Hagen in the one [illegible]. Hagen won his next 24 matches. Both Hagen and Sarazen were tough match-play fighters. I can't recall any two that were better and, in this respect, Hagen had just an edge on [illegible].

Frank Stranahan will make a double charge at the British Amateur and the British Open. He is the best amateur in the world today with Willie Turnesa, Charley Coe and Skee Riegel close.

Amateur golfers get little play today. These are not the gay and gaudy days of Bobby Jones, Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet and Jerry Travers. They have good amateurs on hand, but outside of Frank Stranahan they get few headlines.

Turnesa is one of the best amateurs of all time. Willie is a strict stylist, the perfect swinger. There will be other golfers coming along at some early date. There are always gaps before the new run begins.

But the popular star today is Snead. The West Virginian is the god of the gallery, the fellow they like to see swing a golf club and get such amazing results with so little effort. If Snead can take over the Goodall, he will be something to watch in the P.G.A. a little later on.

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Casey Stengel, baseball's leading exponent of the two-platoon system, is likely to have a difficult time whittling his squad down to the required 25 players by May 15. He wants to keep on changing the Yankee line-up, [illegible] even though four of the five games the Yanks had lost up to yesterday were against [illegible] pitching and a left-hander [illegible] the other one [illegible]. Dr. Cary Middlecoff, now the second-ranking money winner on the pro golf circuit, tabs Lloyd Mangrum as the player to beat in the Goodall tournament. Cary figures a month's lay-off will help the kind of game Mangrum plays.

Boyd [illegible] a second and a third for a total of 18 points to edge out John Newton [illegible] senior boys' honors.

Miss Sinnamon won the 100 and 75-yard dashes and added a second and a third for 24 points in winning the senior girls' diadem. Jean Kerr was second with ten points.

[illegible] was a triple winner in capturing the intermediate boys' honors with a total of 18 points. He won the 220 and 100-yard dashes and the broad jump and finished second in the hop, step and jump. Ken Lore was runner-up with 14 points.

Val Brown and Diane Heaney finished in a tie for girls' intermediate laurels with 17 points each. Miss Brown had two firsts, two seconds and a third while Miss Heaney had three firsts and two seconds.

Miss Veness had four firsts for 20 points in her runaway triumph in [illegible] Mac[illegible] and [illegible] Telmar were ten points further back.

Line-ups were not available last night but will be announced some time today.

Says "Reaction to Frustration" Reason for Senators' Success

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Are you wondering why Washington Senators are playing baseball like champions? It's simply a reaction to frustration.

That's the explanation given by one of the United States' leading psychiatrists, Dr. Winfred Overholser, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Mental Hospital here.

The Senators were just frustrated, said the doctor, when they lost seven games straight at the beginning of the season. Their reaction is what's handed Chicago two, [illegible] St. Louis three, Cleveland three and Detroit two.

Asked if this reaction is only temporary, Overholser replied:

"Not necessarily. It could go on indefinitely."

The doctor said it is not a sports [illegible] amazing resurgence of Clark Griffith's stalwarts.

"When an individual suffers beating after beating there are two courses open," he said. "He can knuckle down and admit defeat or get up and fight back."

He added "this is not restricted to an individual. It applies to groups, teams and even armies. Certainly this ball club is fighting back.

"The Senators' complete reversal of form is a very good example of what a person can do when he becomes sufficiently aroused," said the doctor.

At St. Elizabeth's [illegible] both men and women listen to the games [illegible].

"The Senators' success has certainly been wonderful for morale here," Dr. Overholser said.

Dempsey Promotes Pep's Next Fight

ST. LOUIS, May 12 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, announced today he will be the sole promoter of Featherweight Champion Willie Pep's next title defence, possibly a return engagement with Sandy Saddler of New York.

The fight will be held in late June or July in New York or one of the New England states, Dempsey said.

5 IN MEMORIAM

SCRIMSHAW—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Mrs. Florence Grace Scrimshaw, who passed away May 13, 1947.

The tulips are blooming again, dear Flo,
As they did when you went away;
But we must not fret because we know
We shall meet again one day.
In just the twinkling of an eye
The change takes place and then,
Straight up to God and our home on high,
Never to part again.

—Sadly missed by Mum and Dad, Mr. and Mrs. C. Youell, and her sisters and brothers.

Hernia or Rupture

By DR. J. B. WARREN

A rupture is the lump seen on the abdomen when a part of the large intestine with its coverings pushed through abdominal wall. By coughing, or straining to lift an object, the lump becomes larger, and a feeling of nausea and vomiting may occur. The reason your physician advises you to have rupture repaired either by operation or injections is that you might have a coughing spell causing muscles in abdomen to break and grasp part of intestine (strangulated hernia) when you are miles from any help.

Uncertain Destiny

By BETTY WEBB

"Now sit down before the dressing-table," Sally ordered happily, "and we'll do your hair. It's far too plain for such a glamorous dress."

Seated before the mirror, her eyes tightly closed in compliance with Sally's stern demand, Linda allowed the girls to re-arrange her shining, coppery curls, to pin a fragrant gardenia atop her head. Diane touched the girl's lashes with mascara, [illegible] glistening eyeshadow softly over her lids. Then the two conspirators stood back in satisfaction.

"Now, you may look," Sally said. Gingerly, Linda walked to the full-length mirror and paused, transfixed. This was the realization of her dream—a transformation from "plain" Linda Phillips to a glamorous, and exciting stranger.

"Can this be me?" she wondered, "with a flower in my hair and painted eyes?"

"I don't know what to say," she confessed aloud, "except that it must be magic. I feel like Linda Phillips. I talk like Linda Phillips, but I must be someone else."

She spun around in Diane's silver slippers that were a tiny bit snug, and her laughter was merry, like the tinkle of silver bells. "I know who I am," she cried. "My name is Cinderella, and you—" she clasped hands with Sally and Diane—"are my fairy godmothers!"

Sally laughed delightedly, and returned the eager pressure of her fingers, but Diane's face was sober, her manner grave.

"It isn't magic at all, Linda," she said. "This is the real you. The Linda Phillips of Prairievale will never exist after tonight. She'll waken to her own possibilities."

"You mean that a kiss from the handsome prince will waken her?" Linda challenged happily.

"A kiss from the handsome prince?" Diane mused. "Perhaps you're right, darling. Perhaps that's the answer, after all!"

CHAPTER IV

Diane's smart apartment was filled to overflowing with noisy, laughing people—guests who munched Louise's carefully-prepared sandwiches, and sipped delicious cocktails in tall-stemmed glasses. Through the milling group walked Diane, unperturbed, with one arm around Linda and the other around Sally.

Linda had acknowledged so many introductions that her head began to swim dizzily, and she escaped at length into a corner to recover her balance. From this position she commanded a view of the entire room. She watched the colorful panorama with eager, interested eyes.

This, Linda told herself, was living, and she could not refrain from comparing Kyle with these casual, well-dressed men. What would he think of her now, she wondered. She felt with certainty that Kyle Norman would not approve of his sweetheart's presence at a sophisticated cocktale party, but the thought was instantly dismissed. Regardless of whether he would censure her actions, Linda was enjoying every minute.

Perhaps a slight disturbance at the far end of the room caused her to glance in the direction of the door, but at that moment it opened, and a young man entered the room—tall, handsome, broad-shouldered, with a shock of wavy red hair.

He said something to Louise as he handed her his hat, topcoat, something that caused the maid to chuckle, then shake her head reprovingly. For a moment he surveyed the crowded room with an expression of boredom, and then, as though drawn by sheer magnetism, his eyes fell on Linda, slim and sweet in the shining white dress, and held her attention unwaveringly while he walked across the room to her side.

"Hello!" he said, and it was like an exclamation. "I don't believe I know you, but you're beautiful."

For a long moment Linda was lost in the depths of compelling blue eyes, the bluest she had ever seen, and, then:

"Hello," she answered, uncertainly. "I—I don't believe you do."

She was suddenly weak with a strange, heady excitement.

Slowly his eyes slid down over her face in a glance that was almost a caress as they came to rest on her soft mouth. "I'm Greg Hollister." He was smiling.

"I—I'm Linda Phillips." How false her voice sounded to her own ears!

"Chicago?" His question was polite, but Linda sensed a diffidence in his manner toward her. His eyes flickered suddenly in the direction of other guests, and Linda thought, rebelliously, "He's losing interest in me because I'm dull; because I can't carry on a conversation. Why can't I be witty and vivacious like Sally, or as worldly and fascinating as Diane?" Suddenly she was talking animatedly to hold his attention. Words tumbled from her lips and Linda scarcely heard them.

"And so as a corn-fed Iowa gal, I'm at a loss to know what to say to you city slickers." She was startled, "What am I talking about?"

She stopped short, glancing up at her companion, and—wonder of wonders—he was smiling. Then, surprisingly, they were laughing together and her first fright had passed, leaving Linda completely relaxed and natural.

"I've a suggestion to offer," the handsome newcomer said. "I'd like to show the bright lights of Chicago to a little corn-fed gal."

"Oh, I'd like that very much, but—" her voice was regretful. "I believe Diane has arranged for someone to escort me to the wedding reception."

"Diane?" He gave her a swift glance, and Linda nodded.

"I'm staying with her over the week-end. Diane is an old friend of mine."

"I see." He was strangely quiet, and Linda said quickly, "you know Diane Frazier, don't you? After all, she is the hostess."

"Yes, I know Diane quite well," Greg Hollister replied.

He glanced casually around the smoky room and then said, smilingly, "I promised to stop in for a minute, but I'm afraid I've got to be running along now."

While Linda experienced a sharp stab of disappointment, the man's voice dropped to a whisper, and his bold glance made her pulses quicken, her white neck flush with scarlet.

"I'm going to see you again, Linda Phillips. Will you save a dance for me?"

Linda smiled sweetly, trustingly. "Of course I will," she promised.

When he had wended his way through the crowd, pausing to say only a few words to Diane, Linda saw him turn and nod in her direction, and a radiant smile flashed across her face. She had never met anyone so boldly fascinating as Greg Hollister before. Would they—could they meet again?

After he had departed, the party seemed to lose its zest for Linda. She found herself looking forward anxiously to the wedding reception, and was relieved when the guests began to leave.

After the last visitor had gone, the three girls hastily consumed sandwiches and coffee, and then there was a hurried taxi ride across the city to the church where Betty was to be married.

The wedding was beautiful and inspiring. Watching Betty Allison, so lovely and demure in her white wedding veil, with confidence and trusting shining in her eyes as she faced her proud young bridegroom at the altar, Linda felt a lump in her throat. She wanted to laugh and cry, to sing her happiness for her cousin.

"This is what I want," she vowed to herself. "I want a ceremony of beauty and sanctity. Something to remember and cherish always!" How little Linda knew of the fate awaiting her, or of the events already moving swiftly to change the entire pattern of her chosen life!

All too quickly the ceremony was over, and Linda had only a brief moment to whisper her congratulations to the happy couple. Betty pressed her hand. "I hope you will be as happy as I," she said. Then the newlyweds were surrounded by anxious guests and whisked away to their train.

Bee Hits Driver in Eye, Causes Car-Truck Crash

MORE than $350 damage was caused in a car-truck collision at noon yesterday opposite 2294 Douglas Street. The accident was blamed on a bee that struck the truck driver in the eye.

William Sheppard, 2101 Chambers Street, told city police he was driving south on Douglas Street when temporarily blinded by the bee.

Before he could stop, he told police, he was in collision with a car properly parked at the west curb owned by Dr. Roy E. Cranston, 1271 Union Street.

Damage to the car was about $200.

Scientists Given "Good Word" By Noted Canadian Astronomer

Dr. C. S. Beals, Dominion astronomer and director of the Ottawa Observatory, thinks that Canadian scientists are pretty smart people.

They're economical too, he points out, because they are studying meteors instead of expensive rockets to gain information about the earth's upper atmosphere. The work is being done in collaboration with the National Research Council.

"A meteor traveling at 30 miles a second is an effective projectile," Dr. Beals said.

The famous astronomer, who was with the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Saanich from 1927 to 1946, was the man who planned the northern flight which resulted in the establishment of the new site of the magnetic north pole.

Dr. Beals reports that the Government has had aerial expeditions in the Arctic during the last three years to map the Northlands magnetically and to conduct studies in an effort to discover the cause of the earth's magnetism.

Other developments under way in the field, include the establishment of two small meteor observatories in Alberta, he said. Observers will then have two meteor cameras 25 miles apart which will enable them to establish meteor positions by triangulation.

Including the station here, Canada now has a string of eight seismological establishments across the country, Dr. Beals stated.

Forest Fire Hazard Grows In Dry Spell

Hot, dry weather throughout British Columbia is rapidly drying out the forests and causing a mounting forest fire hazard, the B.C. Forest Service said yesterday.

The service reported there were seven fires in the Peace River that look serious and could develop into large scale holocausts, similar to those which have been sweeping over Northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Details on the Peace River fires were not available.

OUTBREAKS EXPECTED

No other major fires were reported in the Province, but the service expects some major outbreaks if the warm weather continues.

Smoke, which has clouded the sky north of Victoria during the past few days, comes from slash burning under permit along the B.C. Electric right-of-way, forest officials said. The company is clearing land for its new power line to link up with the B.C. Power Commission's Campbell River network at Duncan.

Shaw Presents Case For United Victoria

A strong case in favor of amalgamation of the four municipalities forming Greater Victoria, plus the urban district of View Royal, was presented last night by Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of the town planning committee.

Speaking before a meeting of the Victoria West Association and representatives of the Portage Inlet Improvements Association, Mr. Shaw also discussed a project aimed at "reclamation" of the Gorge waters.

The Gorge, at the present time, the speaker said, "is nothing but a stagnant cesspool."

LACK OF FORESIGHT

Condition of the inland waterway was blamed on lack of foresight shown by municipal councils and failure of the different governments concerned to agree on an improvement plan.

The planning committee chairman warned that amalgamation would come about "whether or not it was wanted."

The danger, he stated, was that such amalgamation would take the form of boards controlling the various services in the area. Councils, he said, would become "tax collectors" who would have to mekly accept estimates submitted by the boards or "commissions" without having a voice in the spending of the monies."

SATISFACTORY WAY

Voluntary amalgamation aimed at unification of services throughout the area would be more satisfactory from a democratic point of view, he thought.

The Goldenberg and the Cameron reports of recent years had both advised amalgamation as an economic measure, the speaker said, only though neither of them had been asked to specifically study the matter.

"An amalgamated school district resulted from the Cameron report," the speaker pointed out.

DIVISION FOOLISH

"It is ridiculous," said Mr. Shaw, "that a small area comprising about 28 square miles should be divided into the four municipalities of Victoria, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich."

"It goes without saying that every part of this small area is dependent on every other part."

If a multiplicity of municipalities insures edequate service, it's logical to further divide, the speaker stated ironically.

"Let's divide Victoria into James Bay, Victoria West, Fairfield and so on."

Esquimalt and Victoria were assuming an unfair share of tax burdens, the speaker claimed.

"In Esquimalt 75 per cent of property is owned by the Dominion Government and is exempt from taxation," he said.

"But the whole area benefits from the naval establishment, the drydocks and other Government establishments."

TAX-FREE PROPERTY

Victoria too, had 30 per cent tax exempt property in Dominion and Provincial Government buildings and church properties. These establishments served the whole community, but the cost of providing services falls on Victoria alone, the speaker stated.

Benefits that would come from amalgamation included increased fire protection since outside areas could call on Victoria equipment in case of emergency, while Victoria would not be called on to finance protection of business and waterfront area on its own, the speaker claimed.

Police protection, traffic control, housing programs, feasibility of public buildings such as libraries and art centres would all be improved if the municipalities united, Mr. Shaw said.

ARGUMENT NOT SOUND

The argument made by opponents of the amalgamation idea, that Victoria's debt was proportionately larger than the other municipalities, was "not sound," he claimed.

Ballanced against assets such as the Royal Jubilee Hospital investment, the debt didn't look so large, he stated.

"That part of Victoria's debt not counterbalanced by benefits to the other communities from its assets should remain a charge on Victoria taxpayers alone," the speaker said.

"The longer amalgamation is delayed, the longer the community as a whole will be without the services a city of more than 100,000 persons needs and expects," he concluded.

The Dominion Government has signified willingness to study the Gorge question with a view to installing locks on a canal linking Esquimalt harbor with Gorge waters, Mr. Shaw claimed.

"It will do nothing about this plan to provide a means of flushing and cleansing the Gorge unless the municipalities concerned can agree on united action to press the matter," he said.

Improvements in sewerage facilities in both municipal and provincial areas bordering on Selkirk water the Gorge and Portage Inlet would be necessary in addition to the canal project if the waterway was to become the $1,000,000 attraction it should be, Mr. Shaw stated.

"Under amalgamation something might be done," he said. "But with the different municipalities each going in a circle of its own, the case is not very hopeful at present."

BABY BOY BURNED

Timothy Mercer, two-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Mercer, 2760 Beach Drive, is in Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering burns to his lip and gums.

Mrs. Mercer said her son got his hands on an electric extension cord, plugged it into the wall socket and put the other end in his mouth.

Hospital authorities reported that he was doing quite nicely and may be able to return home in a couple of days.

Daily Astrology

By RITA DEL MAR

For Friday, May, 13, 1949

Today's Quotation: "Nature is the most thrifty thing in the world; she never wastes anything; she undergoes change, but there's no annihilation, the essence remains—matter is eternal."—Binney.

Friday for Everyone: Allow extra time en route so far as not to be tardy in the morning. Stress points of congeniality rather than differences. Effect savings of time, energy and money.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19—(Aries)—Refuse to allow anything to "get you down." Patience and fortitude will lick impedimenta.

April 20 to May 20—(Taurus)—Play a "waiting game" today; preserve vitality. Stand by and let events shape themselves.

May 21 to June 20—(Gemini)—Turn from the lure of pleasure and romance to more basic issues which demand thought, concentration.

June 21 to July 22—(Cancer)—Adopt a realistic attitude re funds or assets. Underscore physical or employment interests.

July 23 to August 22—(Leo)—Let duty decide the issue if you face a turning. Be gracious.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—Keep some ready cash at hand to meet unexpected requirements. Don't neglect things that need doing.

September 23 to October 22—(Libra)—Switch to a less strenuous tempo if you've been under compulsion or skimping on rest.

October 23 to November 21—(Scorpio)—Take a kindly attitude toward your allies. Regulate monetary matters; cover some territory.

November 22 to December 21—(Sagittarius)—Extend tolerance and sympathy to cherished ones and companions. Be energentic in your locale.

December 22 to January 19—(Capricorn)—Find the happy medium in congenial activities; avoid either a "feast or a famine."

January 20 to February 18—(Aquarius)—Keep calm if the household or office scene is hectic; harried or undergoing a Spring cleaning.

February 19 to March 20—(Pisces)—Attend to financial resources or accounts. Rectify weaknesses; put business first today.

Planning ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: May 15, 16, 17, 22, 23; daytime of 24; mornings of 26, 28; June 1.
